FULLER AND ANGELL

UNDER ONE ROOF

Gratefully dedicated to
LISLE STANLEY FULLER
who was the motivation behind this book,
and to all who contributed to it.

PREFACE

This book is concerned not only with the present, for those of us who can enjoy the association of our loved ones here, but it links us with the past, and those dear ones who have gone ahead.

For those who follow us, the unknown future will be easier to face knowing that we went before and that our hearts and hands reach out to them.

May those who read these pages or scan the pictures feel the love and kinship that unites a real family.

FULLER AND ANGELL UNDER ONE ROOF

THE FAMILY

The family is like a book
The children are the leaves
The parents are the cover, that Protective beauty gives.

At first the pages of the book
Are blank and purely fair
But time soon writes its memories,
And parents its pictures there.

Love is the little golden clasp
That bindeth up the trust;
And God's protecting care o'er all
That none of them are lost.

Early Histories

THE WORD OF GOD
It shaped the lives of their ancestors.
It filled their childhood homes.
It became a part of, and sanctified, their marriage.
It blessed them in their role of parenthood, as they kept the commandments and created a heavenly home for their family.
It ennobled their years of devotion in His service.

"Who e'er thou art who entereth here
Forget the struggling world and every trembling fear.
Take from thy heart each evil thought
And all that selfishness within they life hath wrought,
For once inside this house thou wilt find
No servant's fear nor master's voice unkind.
Here, all are kin of God above, thou too, dear heart,
And here, the rule of life is love."
Quoted by LeGrande Richards

DESCENDANTS OF EDWARD FULLER

Taken from Descendants of Edward Fuller of the Mayflower, by Wm. H. Fuller

Edward Fuller, baptized September 4, 1575 in the Parish of Redenhall County of Norfolk, England was the son of Robert Fuller, butcher. He was a signer of the "Mayflower Compact," the Mayflower landing at Cape Cod in November, 1620. He died at Plymouth between January 11 and April 10, 1621, and his wife died early in 1621 after January 11. His only child was Samuel, who came with his father on the Mayflower (other children since proved).

Samuel Fuller was baptized about 1612 in England, died October 31 or November 10, 1683 at Barnstable, Massachusetts. He was married at Mr. Cudworth's house in Scituate by Capt. Miles Standish magistrate "on ye fourthe daye of ye weeke" April 8 or 18, 1635, to Jane Lathrop, daughter of Rev. John Lathrop of Scituate. She was baptized September 29, 1614 at Edgerly Co. of Dent, England. Died subsequent to 1658 and before 1683 but the exact date not found.

Samuel Fuller grew up under the care of his uncle Dr. Samuel Fuller at Plymouth. He had three acres at the division of lands in 1623, receiving, it is thought those of his father and mother and one for himself. If this theory is correct he was a least sixteen years of age at the time and his birth occurred as early as 1608. It is not quite certain however, that he was old enough to work this land alone. Gov. Bradford's words about this matter are as follows: "all this while no supply was heard of neither knew they when they might expecte any. So theye begane to thinke how they might raise as much corne as they could and obtain a better crop than they had done that they might not still languish in miserie."

At length after much debate of things the Governor gave way that they should set corn, every man for his own particular, and in that regard trust to themselves in all other things to go on in ye general way as before (as a joint stock company), and so assigned to every to every family a parcel of land according to the propertion of their number that end only for present use and ranged all boys and youth under some families. This had very good success. On June 1, 1627, at a town meeting, the inhabitants were divided into twelve groups for the purpose of dividing the cattle then owned in the colony. The eight lot fell to Samuel Fuller (the doctor) and his company joined to him his wife Bridget Fuller, Samuel Fuller, Jr., Peter Brown, Martha Browne, Mary Browne, John Ford, Martha Ford, Anthony Anabelle, Dawaris Hopkins. To this lot fell a fed heifer, came of the cow which belongith to the poor of the colony and is of that consideration Viz. these persons nominated to have half the increase, the other half with the old stock to remain for the use of the poor.

FULLER ANCESTORS who sought RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

In 1620, Edward Fuller, his wife, and their small son, Samuel, left England and sailed on the ship, The Mayflower to come to America. They landed on Plymouth Rock November 21, 1620. Before they landed, the men on the ship formed the Mayflower Compact, and Edward Fuller was one of the signers of that document.

Soon after they landed an epidemic swept the Pilgrim Colony, and Edward Fuller and his wife died early in 1621. Their son Samuel was raised by his Uncle Samuel who was a doctor. When young Samuel grew up, he married Jane Lathrop, who as a child, had also made the journey from England with her father. Samuel Fuller and Jane Lathrop were married by Captain Miles Standish.

Now, I should like to tell the reason why Jane Lathrop's father, the Reverend John Lathrop, and his family left England and came to America.

The Reverend Lathrop was a Church of England minister. As he read the bible carefully, he discovered that there was little harmony between the teachings of that denomination and the scriptures. Being a very conscientious man, he felt that he could not go contrary to the sacred word, so he resigned his position with the State Church and became the pastor of the First Independent Church of London. In doing so he rejected the State Religion and became recognized by both the government and clergy for setting up a separatist group. He had the courage of his convictions, and he proceeded regardless of the risks involved.

By direction of the Bishop of London, he was arrested and cast into prison. While he was thus incarcerated, his wife died. His children were left with no one to care for them. He made appeals for clemency, but the Bishop refused even to listen to him. Finally the orphaned children went to the Bishop as a group and personally pleaded for mercy. So pitiful were they in their misery and dejection that the Bishop finally consented to release Lathrop on the condition that he would leave England and never return. So John Lathrop and his children and 32 members of his congregation sailed for America where they could enjoy the right to worship as they chose.

In America John Lathrop was heartily welcomed, and he became one of his time's greatest religious leaders. It was said of him that "No Pastor was more liked by his congregation than he was, and none other had such a good influence as he. The teachings he preached were long before their time."

Samuel Fuller and Jane Lathrop became ancestors to the Prophet, Joseph Smith and also to Oliver Cowdery. Another of their descendants was my great-grandfather, Elijah Knapp Fuller, who lived at the time of the restoration of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and who was the first Fuller to join the Church.

Jane Lathrop's brother Samuel Lathrop who married Elizabeth Scudder became ancestor to Wilford Woodruff and also to Orson and Parley P. Pratt.

So we see that great men have come through the lineage of Edward Fuller and the Reverend John Lathrop, both of whom came to America for religious freedom.

ELIJAH KNAPP FULLER

Elijah Knapp Fuller, son of Cornelius Fuller and Zelpha Knapp, born June 13, 1811, at Windham, Green, New York. Taken from the Deseret News, Feb. 24, 1898, page 2. Died at Leeds, Utah, December 28, 1897, being 86 years, 6 months, 15 days old. He was the father of 32 children, leaves a host of grandchildren. Journal History 1894, March 18, page 2. Elijah Knapp Fuller tells of his early experiences and trials, etc:

"I consider myself invited to give a sketch of what took place in my time and travels with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. I will start with my father, Cornelius Fuller, although he never heard the Gospel preached by the Latter-day Saints. Cornelius Fuller was born September 14, 1770, in Columbia County, New York. He married Zelpha Knapp, born June 29, 1771. Sixteen children were born to this union. All of them lived to marry and have families of their own.

"My father and his brother, Peter Fuller, were both in the war of 1812. Father was on the general staff and held the office of Major. He moved west 25 miles from the Hudson River to Green County, right in the back woods where there was no place cleared of timber. The timber consisted of hemlock, maple, and beach.

"I was the fourteenth child in the family, and was born in Windham, Green, New York, June 13, 1811. I married Harriet Loomis of the same place, December 20, 1831. I made a start in life on a farm. The chief articles to bring money then were hemlock and birch lumber. I was baptized May 1842. I went to New York to get an Elder to baptize me (a distance of 180 miles). There were five of us in the place ready to join the Church. Elder Moses Martin came and baptized us all. I was ordained an Elder, and was appointed to preside over the branch. Then came outside persecutions.

"The year that Joseph the Prophet had his name on the list to run for President, I lectured in his behalf. The leading politician in that part of the country said his views on government showed him (Joseph Smith) to be a powerful man. When we heard of his and Hyram's assassination the Saints mourned as though they could not be comforted. I sold out in September of 1844 and started with my family to Nauvoo and arrived there in October. I have been with the Church from that day to this.

"There was a good deal of suffering and privation in Nauvoo. The year before we left was such as I have not power to describe. My wife died July 27, 1845 in Nauvoo, age 31 yrs. Harriet Frances Fuller, my daughter, died August 9, 1845, age 9 months. William Henry Fuller, my son died September 22, 1845, age 12 years. Mary Lovina Fuller, my daughter died October7, 1845, age 7 years and 7 months. When I left Nauvoo, I buried them all in one grave.

"President Brigham Young called a meeting of all the members of the Church in the Nauvoo Temple, and we made a covenant to use our power to help move the people to the far west, but not knowing where we would locate. The people started the move by building wagons, gathering cattle to haul them, and provisions to sustain them while they were moving. The main body of the Church left in April and May and traveled in small companies.

"While they were moving came the requisition from the government for the aid of 500 men for the Mexican War. I was asked to go andsaid I did not feel much like it, as I had served seven years. I had a commission as Captain. I told Brother Kimball, however, to put my name down and I would go. Later he said if I would let one of my drivers go it would be all right. The driver's name was Edwin Walker. He could not have gove any farther that seasonhad it not been for this opportunity.

"When the news that our brethren who were left in Nauvoo were all driven across the Mississippi River at the point of the bayonet by the mob and were in deplorable condition, a call came for volunteers to take teams and wagons to go back and aid them and many responded to the call. I took two teams and brought back three families to the Camp of Israel and there began to fix for Winter Quarters. I had traveled three times across Iowa.

"On January 18, 1846, I married Katherine Walker at Winter Quarters. On February 4, 1847, a son was born to us. We named him Elijah Knapp, Jr.

"A company called Pioneers was organized to leave early in April for the Salt Lake Valley or Basin, as it was called at that time. The main body of the Camp was organized in companies of hundreds, fifties, and tens, and counseled to start as soon as the grass grew for feed. I was placed in the second ten as Captain. In my ten were Father John Smith, John Q. Smith, Thomas Callister, Silas and Jesse Smith. We left our Winter Quarters in May 18, 1847. There having been a good deal of rain the ground was very soft and it was with difficulty we could move our loaded wagons. We traveled over four months and reached the Salt Lake Valley on September 16, 1347. When we arrived I had only 25 cents left.

"Next came a trip to California after cattle. We left for Williams Ranch 10 miles below what is now called San Bernadino. I was one of the minute men commanded by Col. William Kimball to guard against and shadow the Indians, and was out on several excursions.

"I married Sally Ann Smith September 8, 1850 in Salt Lake City. On June 9, 1351, a boy was born to us. We named him Joseph Smith Fuller. In 1851 I married Ellen Celeste Woodard, who had come over in the Handcart company in 1349. She was a niece of Emmeline B. Wells. On June 2, 1352 a baby girl was born to us. We named her Harriet Ellen. I went with the late President John Taylor to New York City to assist in publishing the paper called The Mormon. This was in 1854. On April 1, 1354 another girl was born to us. We named her Lucy Maria. This same year I was called by Brigham Young to help colonize the desert and make friends with the Indians in the State of Nevada. Before leaving Salt Lake City, a blessing was given to me on August 31, 1354, by Orson Hyde and John Taylor, in the vestery of the Tabernacle.

"On August 20, 1356, another girl was born to us in the Territory of the Desert where the city of Las Vegas now stands. We named her Zilpha Diadama. She was the first white child in the state of Nevada. We moved back to Salt Lake City in 1358. I helped to bring the granite slabs from the mountain by ox teams to erect the Salt Lake Temple.

"I was called to go to Dixie in 1360 to help colonize that part of the country. We located in a little town called Harrisburg. I helped to build the St. George Temple. Eleven children were born to us, 4 in Salt Lake City, 6 in Harrisburg, and 1 in Las Vegas, Nevada.

"I owned a store and freighted my goods from Salt Lake City. When in Salt Lake getting goods for my store I met and married Harriet Alice Walker. She had arrived in Salt Lake City from England only six weeks before and was 22 years old. This was November 17, 1866. What a surprise to the family to bring this charming bride back with me. We were married in the Salt Lake Endowment House.

"In 1330 when polygamy was put down, my wife Ellen Celeste decided to take her children, all nearly grown and go to Arizona. There were 11 children born to her and 6 to Harriet Alice at that time, 1381. We moved to Cedar City on September 7, 1332, and there another girl Vilate Abigail was born.

"The Indians were so bad at that time, stealing horses and cattle, and as they had stolen most of mine, I decided to move back to Harrisburg to my home there. I had been planning on moving to Arizona where the rest of my family had gone, but while putting up hay the wagon tipped over and I fell off and broke my hip. I never walked again except with a crutch and cane, so was not able to move to Arizona. On December 6, 1384, another girl Chloe Belle was born to us, making 7 daughters and 1 son. In 1339 we moved to Leeds. We bought a house at Silver Reef along with 2½ acres of land—rocks and sagebrush. There we made our home.

"I have owned and lived in 16 different houses and raised 32 children. On May 18, 1363, I was made counselor in the Bishopric with Bishop Stringham. I was Justice of the Peace in Harrisburg in 1377."

Elijah Knapp Fuller died in Leeds, Utah December 23, 1397.

Patriarchal Blessing, Elijah Knapp Fuller, P.B. 9:4 29, givenat Nauvoo on October 20, 1344.

THOMAS ANGELL

Taken from the diary of Truman O. Angell

The first ancestor of Solomon and Truman Angell, brothers, to come to America was Thomas Angell. He came from England in the 16th Century on the ship "Lion" in company with Roger Williams and shared with him many interesting experiences.

They were expelled from the Puritan Massachusetts Bay Colony on account of religious beliefs. They with four other men founded the "Providence Plantation" (1636) later known as Providence Rhode Island.

In their new settlement these men took the first steps to separate church and state. On August 20, 1637, they declared that they would make "laws subject to the majority in civil things only."

The other men associated with Angell and Williams included William Harris (ancestor of Martin Harris), John Smith (the miller) and Francis Weeks and Josua Verin.

It is learned from Truman Angell's diaries that the Angell and Williams families intermarried considerably. Other prominent relatives of the Angells include James B. Angell, President of Ann Arbor, and his son James Roland Angell, now President Emeritus of Yale University.

SOLOMON ANGELL

Solomon Angell, born in Florense, Onieda, New York, April 31, 1806, died in Leeds, Utah, September 20, 1881. He was a carpenter and millwright by trade and cabinet maker. He had charge of the quarries in Little Cottonwood Canyon, Utah, when the stone for the Salt Lake Temple was cut.

In about 1866 he was called by President Brigham Young to pioneer the Dixie country so he and his wives moved to Leeds, Utah, where he spent the remainder of his life. During his residence in Salt Lake he was a "minute man" and a special policeman.

Solomon Angell, his mother Phoebe Ann Merton Angell* his wife Eunice Clark Young Angell, and their five children arrived from the east, after crossing the plains 20 Sept. 1848, in Salt Lake City with the Brigham Young Company.

Solomon Angell was baptized into the LDS Church in 1834 by Leonard C. Rich. He was a member of Zion's Camp, assisted in the building of the Kirtland Temple and received his blessings in that house of God. He passed thru the persecutions with the Saints. He died as he had lived in full hope of a glorious ressurection.

*Phoebe Ann Merton Angell was a widow when she joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. She drove her own team of oxen across the plains. One daughter and three grandchildren in addition to her son Solomon's family accompanied her.

ANNA CASJIA JOHANSON

Born October 9, 1835, at Kirkfalla, Sweden. Died May 18, 1914 at Leeds, Utah. Parents moved from Sweden to Denmark when she was ten years old, because they joined the LDS Church. They were not allowed to worship in Sweden. She learned the English language and taught it while there.

She emigrated to America on a sailing vessel which took nine weeks to make the voyage. She came in company with friends; her parents did not come until they next year.

When she arrived at Caslte Garden, she worked as an interpreter. In this way she earned enough money to pay her way to Utah. She travelled by train until she reached St. Louis, then came by ox team across the plains. She lived in the family of Samuel Richards until she was married which was about 1863, to Solomon Angell. She and her husband were called, among others, by Brigham Young to pioneer Southern Utah.

They first settled in Long Valley, but were drive out by the Indians. Then they went to Virgin City, then called Pocketville, where they lived in a fort in 1867. There she did spinning and weaving until the day beforeher second child was born. Her first child was born in Salt Lake. From Virgin City they moved to Toquerville and then again moving they settled in Leeds, where she lived the rest of her life.

She was left a widow in 1881 when her son was not quite 17 years old.

She was an active member in the church. Was President of the Primary Association for a number of years. Also was active in Relief Society work, first as a teacher, then as First Counselor to Anna Wildenson. Thru all these years she worked among the sick, doing much obstetric work, and bringing many babies into the world. This was mostly a service of love, as she asked little remuneration. She is lovingly remembered by her grandchildren as well as by all who knew her.

HARRIET ALICE FULLER
by Vilate Abigail Fuller

Harriet Alice Walker Fuller was the daughter of Robert Walker and Maria Jackman, and was born March 21, 1843, at Pleasent Gow, Limehouse, London, England. She was the only child that lived. Her father died when she was small and her mother married William Nichols. Harriet went to live with her aunt, doing house work. She attended school about six weeks as they had to take the money in their hand every Monday morning to pay for the weeks' schooling. She worked at different places until she was 18 years old. She came to Salt Lake in the fall of 1866 and on November 17, 1866, married Elijah Knapp Fuller, who had come to Salt Lake from Harrisburg after goods for his store. Harriet received a recommend that he was a good man. They were married in the old Endowment house where religious marriages were performed. On August 17, 1867 a baby girl was born to them at Harrisburg, Washington, Utah. They named her Maria Amelia Fuller. In May, 1868, her husband was put in as Counselor to Bishop Stringham, as they only had one counselor and two teachers; Milton Dailey and Henry E. Huntington were put in as teachers. That Fall a Sunday School was organized with Adam Sugmiller Superintendent.

On November 4, 1869, another baby girl was born at Harrisburg, Washington, Utah, whom they named Harriet Ellen. In 1869 Bishop Stringham was put in as bishop at Leeds and Willys Fuller, one of Elijah's older boys, as Bishop of Harrisburg. Later Harrisburg was made an appendage to Leeds Ward. On December 21, 1871 another baby girl, Susannah, was born, followed in 1874 by Donald Elijah. In 1866 there were 70 members enrolled in the Sunday School and in 1879 Elijah Knapp Fuller was made Superintendent of the S.S. He held that position until they moved to Cedar City. Martha Florence was born in Harrisburg on February 16, 1876. Vilate Abigail was born in Cedar City in 1882. The Indians were very bad at this place and stole most of their cattle, mules and horses. Elijah decided to sell out and move to Arizona where the rest of his family lived. They moved back to Harrisburg in 1884 but Elijah broke his hip while loading hay so they never went to Arizona. On December 6, 1884, Chloe Bell (named after Elijah's sister) was born. They lived in Harrisburg until 1889, then bought a house at Silver Reef which they moved to Leeds on 2½ acres of ground. There they planted orchards and vineyards and sold fruit, raised bees and sold honey. Harriett had a little verity store and made the living until the children were able to help. She also did baby sitting. They lived to raise the rest of their family.

MY MOTHER, ANNA CISIA JOHANSON
by her daughter, Lavinia Angell Fuller

Anna Cisia Johanson, was born October 9, 1835, at Kirkfalla, Sweden. Her family consisted of Father Carl Johanson, and Mother Casia Benjts, 2 brothers, Fridric Johan and August; 2 sisters, Maria Stena and Sofia, and herself. When a child of 13 years she was stricken with a bone disease which lasted for three years, and rendered her a cripple for life. The family heard the gospel of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. They were converted and baptized. At that time people were forbidden such worship in Sweden so the family moved to Denmark. Anna learned the English language so she was able to teach it to others. When a company of immigrants were coming to America, she joined with them, coming in a sailing vessel which was nine weeks on the water. When landing at Castle Garden she was hired as an interpreter, and in this way she earned enough money to take her to Utah. She came by train as far as St. Louis, then came by ox team across the plains. She lived with the Samuel Richards family where she did sewing, spinning, weaving, etc. She was married to Solomon Angell, October 31, 1863. Her first baby was born January 29, 1865, Charles August.

In 1866 they were called by Brigham Young to come to help settle the Dixie Colony. They first went to Long Valley in Kane County. They were unable to stay there on account of Indian troubles, so came into Virgin City (they then called it pocketville) on the Virgin River where they lived in a fort. This was the year 1867. While in the fort, mother worked at spinning and weaving up until her second child, Phoebe, was born, June 30, 1867. They then moved to Toquerville, where they lived for a short time. Then came to Leeds where they built their home. Two more children were born after coming to Leeds, Adalade then Lavinia.

She was an active member of the church. Was a President of the Primary Association for a number of years. Worked in the Relief Society as a teacher and later as a councilor to Anna W. Wilkinson. Through all the years she went among the sick doing much obstetric work which was mostly a service of love as she asked very little remuneration. Many a pioneer mother has gone through the travail of child-birth with only the assistance and love of this capable woman to help her as no doctors were to be had for many years. The later years of her life were devoted to the care of three orphaned grandchildren, their parents having died within six months of each other. One of these children was an invalid but lived to be sixteen years old and was a constant care.

Anna Angell was a faithful Latter-Day Saint and was truly a Saint indeed.

She was good as she was fair
None on earth above her
As pure in thought as angels are
To know her was to love her.

She passed peacefully away, May 18, 1914.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF LEEDS, UTAH

Written by Sadie S. Fuller
With exerpts from Saga of Three Towns, by Etta Maringer

A view of Leeds Ut. from top o'town

Leeds is a pretty little town situated in a little valley originally called Road Valley. In early Utah history frieght was moved by freight wagons. Certain places along the route became way-stations. Road Valley was a welcome place to freighters as it was neither a sand patch nor a bed of boulders.

Most of the people who lived in the original town of Leeds were formerly from Harrisburg. Lavinia Fuller related to me that there was much contention and backbiting in Harrisburg. When Erastus Snow travelled to Southern Utah he counseled the people of Harrisburg to move to Road Valley and make their homes. He said that that particular area was once used by the Gadianton Robbers as a hiding place and their spirits were still there. (I never felt comfortable in that area when Stanley and I later bought the Harrisburg area to farm. Before we sold the town, someone told Stanley he had taken the curse off Harrisburg.)

In 1867 one-hundred and twenty acres were surveyed into lots and the people began to move. They could transfer their water from Quail Creek to the land farther north. The first cabin was built by Richard Ashly. His daughter, Kate, was the first white child born in the town.

In May, 1868, Alma T. Angell, Solomon Angell, Silas Harris, William Stirling, Elijah Thomas, Charles Connally, and Elijah K. Fuller moved to Leeds along with many others. Elijah K. Fuller became a counselor to Bishop Stringham. A Sunday School was organized with Adam Seegmiller as Superintendent.

A school house was built of cedar posts and pine slabs with Helen Leany and Charles Connally as teachers.

At the request of Bishop Stringham the town's name was changed from Bennington to Leeds after Leeds, England where the bishop filled a mission.

In 1875 Leeds started to build a stone meeting and school house combined. It was completed in 1878. The year of 1890 found Melvin Harmon of St. George the sole teacher of 40 pupils of all ages and grades. His salary was $40.00 a month. He needed help, and Vinnie Angell was chosen from the upper grades to teach the younger children. Her salary was $10.00 a

She was so successful that she taught for several years, her salary creeping up to $25.00 a month.

About 1880, rich silver deposits were found about one and a half miles northwest of Leeds. Miners poured into the new boom town which was called Silver Reef. Everyone in Leeds and nearby towns raised farm produce to be sold there. Early peaches and apples sold for 5¢ each. There was work for Leeds men at the mines. Donald Fuller and Marian Paris drove teams and ore wagons from the Buckeye and Stormont Mines to the Stormont Mill. Wood from Pine Valley Mountains was cut and hauled to burn and run the mills. David McMullin was kept busy as a blacksmith.

The economy of the people of the little town was greatly improved. The people of Leeds had suffered many hardships from crop losses due to grasshoppers and other insects. Now the newly planted vineyards began to produce abundantly and the making of wine was encouraged. This brought ready sale at Silver Reef, and good money to the producers.

There was some cotton raised in Leeds in 1877. New graded roads a few years later encouraged the planting of newer better orchards. Molasses made from sorghum cane was produced, and was always readily sold. The year of 1927, the town set out 2,000 fig trees.

In 1929, the town started to build a new chapel. It was of Spanish Mission design. It had an auditorium, stage, dressing rooms, Relief Society room, and book closets. It was electrically lighted and steam heated. It cost $10,450.00.

In 1939, Edward McMullin was released as bishop of Leeds, Ward and L. Stanley Fuller was selected for the position. His counselors were Walter Eagar and Lawrence McMullin. Under Bp. Fuller's direction the church house was renovated and painted. Landscaping improved the grounds. When Stanley Fuller moved to Northern Utah in 1946 he sold a part of his orchard land to the ward as a welfare project.

Modern day Leeds has changed with the ti es. A lovely large new chapel has been erected not far from where the old church once stood. The highway is now a freeway and runs not through the middle of town, but down through the fields west of the cemetary where lies the remains of the sturdy pioneer fore-fathers and mothers who answered the call of Brigham Young and settled this spot and raised their families.

There are numerous new expensive homes built out around Leeds amid the rocks and cactus. But Pine Valley Mountains still stand in a purple haze with the rose-red of the foothills in the foreground. The summer sun still shines hot and ripens the grapes, figs and pomegranates. The waters of Quail Creek still run to moisten the thirsty earth and bees buzz lazily in the peach blossoms in the springtime.

MY KIN

Heroes were they, this eager questing line
Of men who perished in a cause divine,
Of women fragile instruments of fate,
To usher in a new race, strong and straight,
A tribe of gallant leaders still unbowed
Of these am I--why should I not be proud?

DONALD ELIJAH FULLER

"I was born August 3, 1874. My father, Elijah Knapp Fuller, was one of the early Pioneers, coming to Utah with others of the Church in 1847. My mother, Harriet Alice Walker, came from England several years later, married my father who had been married before and had many children. I was the only boy my mother had, but I have seven sisters. I was born in Harrisburg, Washington County, Utah. When I was about twelve years old, my father met with an accident, breaking his hip, and rendering him a cripple the rest of his life. So I had to do a man's work with the help of my sisters.

"When I was about sixteen we moved to Leeds where I have since lived. I married Lavinia (Vinnie) Angell in the year 1896. In one year we had a beautiful baby girl. Then as time went on other children followed until we had nine, five boys and 4 girls.

"During these years I had many experiences and much sickness. I bought a small farm on the Virgin River and while working there I was stricken with articular rheumatism, which was so painful I was sick in bed for six weeks. I finally got well from that and went to work grubbing stumps and hauling wood to the mill at Silver Reef. My father died, and I continued to care for my mother in every way I could. She had a few head of cattle, which I took care of for a small share. As time went on, the cattle accumulated, but slowly we were obliged to sell some at a great sacrifice, as prices were so low. I put in many a hard day riding over the rough hills and canyons for many years. I bought my home in 1904 where I still live. We worked hard and made many sacrifices to get the home paid for, and then I bought another field. Then after my wife's mother died, I bought the property she had by paying off the other heirs, my wife having one share.

"As our children grew up and were ready for high school, we sent them to St. George, which was very expensive at that time. There were no buses, so we had to rent a house for them to live in. They did not get as much schooling as we wished. Stanley went on a mission for two years, and in that time Reed, Phoebe, and Maida were all married. I was 46 years of age when our youngest child was born. Now they are all married and my wife and I are alone and old. I will be 80 years old this year, 1954.

"One time, when I was hauling wood out of the hills, I had an accident. My load of wood tipped over against a ledge of rocks, pinning me in between the wood and the ledge, which broke my leg in two places. My brother-in-law, Charles Angell, was with me and rescued me from a terrible plight which surely would have killed me if I had been alone.

"Several years later I had another accident. I was riding a horse driving a cow when my horse slipped on the sleek highway and fell with me on him, which broke my shoulder and several ribs. I could tell of several smaller incidents that I have had, but my life has been preserved. I have tried to live right by keeping the Word of Wisdom and keeping myself clean in the sight of the Lord, whom I know has preserved my life. Three years ago last April I was very sick and was taken to the hospital where I suffered a paraletic stroke, but I am still alive although I was paralyzed in my entire left side and am rendered almost helpless."

Donald and Lavinia provided food for their family out of their own garden. They grew all kinds of vegetables and had many fruit trees. They also raised chickens, rabbits, pigs, and other livestock. They milked their own cows. Lavinia made their bread, and when food was scarce they would sit down to a favorite supper of bread and milk. They also added fresh grapes, when available, to make this dish more delectable. Nomatter how hard life was for them, they never went to bed hungry.

In those days the mode of travel was by horseback or buggy drawn by horses. However, while their children were still at home, they saw the very first cars ever to be made. Whenever such a car came through Leeds it was a big event, with all the children lining the streets to follow the car as it chugged by. It was easy for a car to get stuck if it got out of the rut. They took part in another progress change from oil lamps to electricity, and still another from outdoor toilets to indoor bathrooms.

It is interesting to note that they raised 10 children (nine plus 1 nephew) in a one-bedroom house. They did build a "back house" for the boys, but during good weather the boys usually slept outside. Underneath the "Back House" was their potato celler, where food was stored for the winter months.

LAVINIA A. FULLER

"I am now about 70 years old, and it is my desire to record some of the incidents and experiences of my life. My life has not been very eventful, but some of the events hold a very place in my memory and are very dear to me.

"I was born November 30, 1872 in Leeds, Washington County, Utah. My parents are Solomon Angell and Anna Cisia Johanson. My parents came to Leeds about 1863. I have always lived in Leeds. Some of my earliest recollections are of Father and Auntie (my father's first wife) and Mother living in one room of the little rock house; mother making tallow candles, the barrel in the yard with ashes in it to "break" the water for washing. This was the only lye we had and soap was scarce.

"I remember when Father planted the row of mulberry trees and built a new picket fence in front of our home. I can remember my mother sewing by the light of tallow candles. I can see my father as he wound our tall old clock. It had a picture of the Empress Josephine on it which I thought was very beautiful. I remember teasing Auntie for a lump of sugar which cost $1.00 per pound. Calico was selling at $1.00 per yard. One of the highlights of my childhood was when we got our first kerosene lamp. Another event was when I was nine I visited my grandmother in Ephraim. I was so disappointed when I found she could only speak Swedish and I could not understand her.

"When I was five years old, the Silver Reef Mine opened up. Things changed pretty fast for our quiet little town. There were many strangers and plenty of money. Stores and saloons were started and life became pretty exciting. The Silver Reef flourished for about ten years. Of course it brought employment and sale for many of the products the people could raise.

"I was about seven when Auntie died, and about nine when Father died (Sept. 25, 1881). When I was about twelve years of age, there came a terrible cloudburst and an awful big flood of water came. Mother's house was built where a wash widened out at the upper end of town, and it was in the direct path of the flood. The trash and debris piled against the fence and the water filled our house and backed the water around to about two and one-half feet deep. Some men who were hauling ore from the mine to the mill helped my sister Phoebe bail the water out of the house. The flood did a lot of damage to our household furnishings, and the water mark remained on our walls for a long time to remind us of the flood.

"Our family consisted of Father, his first wife whom we called Auntie, my mother and her four children: Charles August, Phoebe Ann, Adelaide, and myself, Lavinia (Vinnie).

"After my father died, my mother had a hard time to make a living, so as soon as I was old enough I went to work, but I tried to get all the schooling I could get. I loved school. It was hard to get good teachers in Leeds. My first teacher was very strict, and at times was mean and cruel, though he was kind to me and my sisters. Leeds was quite a big town then, and my girlhood days were quite nice. Then another teacher came to Leeds, and I went to school to him. However, he had more pupils than he could handle, so I was hired to teach the lower grades. I proved to be a successful teacher, so the County Superintendent allowed me to take the school in Harrisburg the next year. I worked hard and earned every cent I got. Wages were very low, and I boarded with the families who had children in school. I came home on Friday night and returned to Harrisburg on Sunday night. I taught three more winters here in Leeds. I wanted so much to go to high school so that I could continue to teach because I loved the work. I could not get the money to go to Provo for continued study, so I did not go on with teaching.

"Of course I was active in the Church, went to dances, and took part in all social life, singing and reciting. I always had a part in the plays which we put on. I have worked in the Church all my life. I was President of the M.I.A. before I was married and class leader in Sunday School. I was President of the Primary for five years and in 1927 I was put in as President of the Relief Society, which office I held for six years. Before I became President of the Relief Society I was secretary for 20 years.

"I was married to Donald B. Fuller on June 23, 1896 in the St. George Temple. I have raised a family of nine children, 5 boys and 4 girls, all of whom have grown to adulthood and are married. I have tried to do my duty at all times and to be a good and faithful member of the Church."

EARLY DAYS OF THE DONALD ELIJAH FULLER FAMILY

by Eldon Fuller, as told to Loueen Fuller Anderson

When the old Silver Reef mine was going, out of Leeds, Dad could not make a living off the farm. His farm was not big enough. He went out and hauled wood out of the mountains to run the boilers for the Mill. That is how he made some extra money with his team and wagon. He also hauled freight for someone. He went to the railroad at Cedar City and sometimes to the sawmill in Beaver. After they sheared sheep, all the farmers took the wool on their wagons to Lund to the railroad (about 100 miles). He would take woo wool up and bring back freight for the stores in St. George. That is the kind of work he did, besides his farming, to make a living. He raised all the food we ate: beef, milk cows, tomatoes, peaches, vegetables, melons and everything. We enjoyed the watermelons very much. We also raised all kinds of fruit. Mother made butter, all our bread and canned the fruit. Every summer she put up hundreds of quarts of fruit to have to eat during the winter. The married children could always count on some of Mother's fruit in time of need. She stored it all in a dirt cellar (underground room). We had chickens for eggs and meat. I raised rabbits when I was a boy and we ate them too. When Dad was up in the mountains, he would kill a deer and we ate it for meat. That deer meat was good. Mother bottled it, and it made the best sandwiches of anything you ever tasted.

In my father's generation, most everyone was a farmer. My generation worked for the other man as jobs increased. We both saw a great change in the family lifestyle. Dad used to go up in the hills and trap and catch foxes and coyotes, and tan them for fur. Once a week the fur dealer from Cedar City came through and bought the furs and then he shipped them to the fur company, Northwest Hide and Fur, and different companies.

I remember Mother counseling us about those things that were not good for us. She said that drinking and smoking were two things to stay clear of. She said, "If you smoke, it will make a slave of you. You won't be able to handle it, it will handle you, and you will smoke whether you want to or not, if you let it. So you have to make up your mind not to let it make a slave of you." Mother was a religious person. She was President of Relief Society for many years. She was such a good person. I never knew anyone better than she. She radiated love and goodness. She loved her grandchildren just as much as she did her own children. She was an angel; she lived up to her name. She was a wonderful person. I never did hear her say a harsh word against anyone. She always had something good to say about someone, or else she would not say anything at all.

Dad was a hard worker, he was always gone working and providing for his family. He didn't have any steady job. He made his own job. He hauled wood for the mill at Silver Reef. They did not have access to coal, so they stoked their furnaces with wood. Dad chopped the wood, loaded it on the wagon, and hauled it out of the mountain. He pedaled fruit up north to the towns who did not raise fruit. He traded for other produce that we did not have in Dixie. There was not much money in those days. Most everyone traded their goods. There was never a man more honest than my Father. He believed in doing good for his fellow man. He would not cheat anyone out of anything for any reason in the world. Mother would go to Dad and say, "Dad, look at the shoes on this child." He would look then reach down in his pocket and give her enough money to go get the shoes. Mom did the shopping and most of our shopping was through the Sears and Montgomery Wards catalog. There wasn't any store in Leeds for a good many years, occasionally we went shopping at the store in St. George.

We were probably classed as poor people, as was most everyone in our town. Our house had a kitchen, a living room which we used for a dining room, and two bedrooms. One bedroom had a fireplace in it. Nine children were raised there. During the summer months, the boys slept outside under the grape arbor. Dad had a water barrel out there with burlap wrapped around it, and he would fill it with water every morning and then he'd wet the burlap to keep the water cool. The family's drinking water came out of this barrel. We had no plumbing then. Dad would dip the water out of the ditch that ran down the side of the street in front of the house. It was clear water that came out of a spring. In later years it did get polluted but we finally did get a water system. We did not have power either. We used coal-oil lamps. Every once in awhile one of the children would knock over one of the lamps and nearly set the house afire. We always got it out before it caused any serious damage. In the evenings we stayed up awhile and played games, sometimes cards, and we had a lot of family entertainment.

Water barrel and coal oil lamp

A lot of times we stayed up until 10 or 11. We liked to play hide and seek outside, running around and making a lot of noise. Mother used to read us lots of stories. Church stories or a good novel. We first got a radio when I was about 14 or 15 after they were invented. We had to wait until it was dark before we could get any reception on the radio. I had a radio in a car about 1930, and we wanted to hear "One Man's Family," and it did not come in very good, so we went up on a little hill and put the front wheels in a ditch and then the program could be heard very clearly just before dark time. The water must have given it some kind of an antenna. We listened to that program for years every day. There was no such thing as television in our home. It hadn't been invented yet.

I remember when everyone was dancing the Charleston. We loved cowboy music. Most of the time the girls wore dresses that came clear down to their ankles. I never saw a girl in overalls unless she was out pitching hay or something like that. Most of the young men wore short hair and combed it back.

I shook hands with President Hardy when I was a little boy and considered it a real privilege. As President Hardy came through town, I was sitting on a bench in the street. He came over and shook hands with every person sitting on the bench. Back in those days the presidents visited the people by means of stagecoach, train, or whatever was handy. They went out to even the little towns campaigning. There were many a campaign promise made in those days, just as there are in our day, that never was kept.

Changes in technology we have seen in our lifetime were the coming of the radio, coming of electricity, refrigerators, plumbing inside, transporation from horse and buggy to cars, airplanes to spacecraft and television. Silent movies no longer exist. Plumbing was available when I was a child but families had to wait several years until they could afford to put it in. We had an out-house. We brought in a bucket of water for indoor use, and threw it out the door each day. When the first automobile any of us had ever seen came through Leeds, it bounced out of the wagon tracks, because its wheels were closer together than the wagon tracks. The driver was heard to remakr, "I'll never come down here again!" That was a Model T Ford. Our family's means of transportation was horse and buggy and teams and wagons.

The mail came by stagecoach at first, then by automobile. High-wheeled automobiles were built so they could cross the creeks when the water was high and there weren't any bridges.

In our early family years we had an ice-box that held ice to keep the food cold. Later we got refrigerators. Every few days the ice man brought ice to put in the ice box. We bought 50 or 100 pound chunks.

We had very little medical help. We had home remedies. Mother had a "doctor book" that was full of herbal remedies and such. There was a doctor in adjoining towns, St. George and Hurricane. The doctor used to come through our town regularly, about once a week, and stop and help anyone who needed his attention. The nearest town was about 20 miles away. Whenever any of the children got a sliver or any sore that festered up in any way, my mother always put Pine gum on it to draw out the infection, and it healed right up. We got it out of pinon pine trees. We tried to use it when it was medium soft. It smelled something like turpentine, and it sure did draw out infection. When father broke his finger and it healed up in a broken position, it was always obviously crooked after that.

Mother used to make us "Brigham tea" with a plant called Brigham. We liked that. She also made sage tea and mint tea. It grew wild on the ditch bank: spearmint, peppermint. We picked it and used it fresh. But mother dried it also and put it in a sack for days when there wasn't any available.

Everyone went to the silent movie put on by a traveli traveling movie company that came through once a week. They would hang up a sheet in the church house to show the movie on. We also had traveling plays come through town with real live actors. If it was the last 50¢ we had we would spend it to see the play. Some were good and some were bad but it was better than nothing.Everyone went to the dances at the church also. We used the Victorolla, or sometimes an orchestra. There were also plays put on by the school kids.

The schoolhouse was a two-room building with a coal furnace in the hall that heated up both rooms. It had a couple of outdoor toilets--boys and girls. First through fourth grade was in one room and sixth through eighth in the other. There was usually a lade teacher in the younger grades and a man teacher in the upper.

Daily routine: We got up in the morning, had our chores to do, went to school in the winter, came home from school to do more chores, and then to study. We had cows to milk, pigs to feed, orchards to prune, cattle to feed, limbs to gather up, gardens to hoe and weeds out of. All the kids helped on the farm.

Our home had no air-conditioning. Most of the homes had a heater in the front room (wood-burning), a wood-burning stove in the kitchen, and a fireplace as a secondary source of heat.

My parents stayed in the home they had started their marriage out in. They died in that home. My dad was out digging ditches and such when he was 70 years old. If he could work, he worked. He did sell part of the farm and got it down to a smaller size. He still had the garden and the vineyard.

During the depression, if people couldn't pay their power bills, which they could not, they had their electricity shut off. The stock market crashed in the early 1930's. When people couldn't pay their power bills, the power company came and cut one wire; they wouldn't unhook it completely. Sometimes we would get a local electrician in the neighborhood to come hook it back up until they were caught again. Some men learned how to do it themselves. Others learned how to take a wire and fix it so it did not register on the meter and got their power for free. When the fuse blew, they put a nickel in behind the fuse to get it working again. People did all kinds of things to get power in their houses, because we had to depend on it. The power company was not too fussy about clamping down on people, because they understood that people just did not have the money.

In 1916 or 1918 there was a bad flu epidemic. Our whole family had it; the whole town had it. We would get up for a drink of water and go right back to bed. It was worse than the flu nowadays. Those neighbors who were well enough would come milk our cow and put the milk on the doorstep and do what they could. When we got better, we helped the neighbors ourselves. One or two of the older folks in our town died. Throughout the country there were over 30,000 who died of the flu.

LETTER FROM CHLOE FULLER BEATTY TO STANLEY AND SADIE FULLER Pine, Az., Sept. 20, 1960

I will try and write a little something about my dear brother, Don, as you asked me to do. I can remember a little of when we were living in Harrisburg. I was six years old December 6, 1890, the day we moved to Leeds. Don was our standby as Father got hurt the month before I was born.

He was hauling hay and the wagon load of hay tipped over and he was thrown off and broke his hip. He was taken to Cedar City to the nearest doctor, but it took two days with team and wagon. When they reached Cedar City his hip was so swollen that the doctor said he could do nothing for him. Of course he was brought back home and his hip never healed right so he always walked with a crutch and a cane. Don being the only boy among seven girls, the work of farming was his job.

I can remember Silas Earl coming down from Virgin and helping Don with farm work. We farmed three or four lots in Harrisburg.

I was born in 1884, and it was about that time that father's other wife, Aunt Ellen Fuller, and her children, three boys and six girls, some of whom were married, all went to Arizona. Father was planning on going later but on account of the accident didn't go. Willis Fuller also Revilo Fuller, two of Father's sons by his first wife, the one who died and was buried in Nauvoo, also went to Arizona. Father then had their homes and lands to take care of, so Don had quite a task. These lots had a nice lot of fruit on them.

When I was almost six years old, Mother and Don went up to Silver Reef and bought an old house. Don got some help and moved it down to Leeds. They got a lot to put it on and I remember the lot was covered with rocks. Don and all of us girls picked up the rocks and made a fence around the lot with the rocks. Mother and the girls lined the house with cloth on the walls and ceiling. Then we papered the walls and whitewashed the ceiling. There were four rooms in the house: two bedrooms, a living room and a kitchen. I remember Don some years later shingling the house.

We had a few head of cattle that the Indians hadn't stolen and Don had the care of those. Later Father gave him a share for caring for them. I think that was how Don got his start.

Don had to haul all our wood. I remember going with him down to the Virgin River and picking up drift wood. He did not have much chance to go to school as he had to help make the living.

Mother used to walk up to Silver Reef and wash on the board for people all day for the price of 75 cents. Then she had to walk all the way home afterward.

There was lots of Dixie wine made in Leeds. It was paid in for tithing. Bishop B. Y. McMullin would give Mother a barrel of wine and a barrel of molasses that had been paid in for tithing. I got to go along with Mother and Don to New Harmony to peddle it for flour and potatoes. Sometimes a little store pay. Mother got dress goods at Beaver to make Vilate and I school dresses. I remember Mother, Don and I took a trip to Hinckley to see Aunt Nellie and Joe Blake. It took us seven days to go up. I guess you wonder why I always went along. Well, I was the baby of the families of 32 children.

We girls thought a lot of our only brother, Don. He was always so jolly and good natured. I believe he never in his life profaned. I cannot remember of ever hearing even a slang word from him. He never drank wine or smoked like many of the other boys did, that were his age. He was a good boy and a wonderful man. He never held many church positions, but he was honest and he always kept his word.

He always had a job. If he didn't have one, he would make one. He with his lovely wife raised a good family of nine children.

He used to compose poems and songs. One time he and Uncle Charlie Angell were going to the White Hills to work. When they got down to Littlefield, Arizona, the road went back and forth across the Virgin River a lot of times. There was quick sand in the river bed. Their wagon was loaded with grain and groceries and their bedding. Don had just traded for a roan horse. As they were crossing the river the road horse balked and refused to pull. Don said in his song that he composed later:

The roan horse balked and the other couldn't pull it
I unhooked the horses and I went for a team,
While I was gone there came a big stream,
Tipped the wagon over, and the things went down
And Charlie and the boy came nearly getting drowned.

The boy was Wallace Woodbury. They were taking him down to Mesquite. They would have drowned if Uncle Charlie hadn't have been a good swimmer. He got the boy and swam to the bank down the river a ways and got hold of a root and held on until Don got back.

Don did a lot of temple work in his later years. He surely was a good man. I loved him very much. We named one of our sons after him, Donald Fuller Beatty.

Well my dear Stanley and Sadie, I hope you can read this, and get a little good out of this for your history.

All my love,

Aunt Chloe

THINGS I REMEMBER ABOUT GRANDPA AND GRANDMA FULLER

by Donald Fuller

I was a young boy when grandpa died. I remember the grapes at the home in Leeds and the sacks of nuts sent at Christmas. I remember being at his bedside when he was nearing death. Grandpa tried to tease me and make me feel at ease and not to be worried or afraid. I remember where his grave is and visit it and Leeds from time to time.

The Little Blue Ststucco House by Ruth Fuller

When I was nine years old, we moved from Salt Lake City to Las Vegas. When we went through Leeds we stopped and bought milk from a family that lived in a blue stucco house.

When I was twelve years old, we went to Salt Lake City on a trip and again stopped both ways at the little blue stucco house for milk.

When I was seventeen years old, we moved to Leeds and became acquainted with the lovely people living in the blue stucco house.

I later married the youngest son from the "Little Blue Stucco House."

SOME MEMORIES OF MOTHER AND DAD

by Phoebe Fuller Bluemell

Mother and Dad were married in the St. George Temple June 23, 1896. They lived in a three room lumber house called the Dan Sill House. They lived there for about two years. Verna was born there, then they moved to Aunt Adelaide Barlow's home down the land from the school. Clint, Stanley and Reed were all born there. Mother's sister, Aunt Adelaide, died leaving three children; Ivy, Roy and Edith. Roy came to live with Mother and Dad when he was between six and seven years old. His father, Joseph Barlow died Nov. 14, 1895, and his mother died May 20, 1896. Ivy and Edith lived with Grandma Angell, who was a widow.

My parents bought a home over across the hiway in Leeds and they moved there on Stanley's birthday, when he was three years old. Reed was only a few months old. The rest of their children were born there: Phoebe, Maida, Eldon, Oral and Phyllis. Mother didn't have a doctor for any of the births of her children, only for Phyllis. Julia Ford was the midwife.

Mother and Dad lived in this home for the rest of their lives. They both passed away in this home and were buried in the Leeds Cemetery. My sister, Maida and her husband, Bert Sullivan, gave up their own home in St. George and moved into my parents' home to care for the folks as they were both bedfast for some time.

It was very hard for my sister to care for them both as she did. My mother passed away in Maida's arms. Dad died in his sleep and Verna and Maida found him the next morning. Verna was there helping out, at the time, as she had been many times before, when she could be; of course she had to leave her own family to do this.

MOTHER, DAD, AND UNCLE CHARLIE ANGELL'S TRIP TO CHLORIDE AND WHITE HILLS, ARIZONA

Dad and Uncle Charlie went to Chloride Arizona to look for work about a year after Mother and Dad were married (July, 1897). They found work and came back to get mother and Roy, and went back August 23rd. They stayed in White Hills, Arizona about three months. They went to Chloride first and stayed at Charley Connleys place for about two weeks. Dad drove a team for Connleys. They then went to White Hills and stayed in a two room boarded-up tent that they got from the Chidester boys. Mother boarded three Leeds boys, George and Tom Chidester and Wall Dodge. Dad drove a four mule team, hauling ore from the mine to the mill. Mother got sick in November. She was about a month pregnant, so they came back home November 30. They were ten days getting hom as White Hills is about 200 miles from Kingman, Arizona (a long way from home).

Dad and Uncle Charlie had a harrowing experience on their first trip out to Chloride. Dad had a team of horses when he and mother were married. Dad traded one of his horses for a big roan horse in Leeds before they left for Chloride. They had to go by way of Mesquite, Nevada. Dad's nephew, and eight-year-old boy named Wallace Woodberry, was going with them from St. George to his home in Mesquite. They had to cross the Virgin River. The Roan horse balked in the river and wouldn't go on. So Dad left Uncle Charlie and the boy in the wagon, took the team and went back to Levitts Ranch to get another team. A flood came down the river while Dad was gone, tipped the wagon over and rolled on over against the bank. Uncle Charlie held onto the boy and held onto a root on the river bank. Dad got a rope and pulled them both out. They lost all their bedding, grub boxes, razors, clothes and Uncle Charlie's shot gun. They went back to Levitt's Ranch and stayed the night. Another flood came in the night and took the wagon on down and lodged it on a sand bar. Mr. Levitt got it out later on. Dad and Uncle Charlie and the boy went on to Mesquite on horse back. There they got a chance to ride with a man taking a load of chickens to White Hills. Dad got his wagon from Mr. Levitt when they came back home.

WHEN DAD BROKE HIS LEG

Dad and Uncle Charlie Angell (mother's brother) went up in the hills above Leeds to get a couple of loads of wood, (Cedar boughs for the stoves.) It was on a cold January day (January 11, 1907). Dad's horse, old Smiler, got sick so they came home. Dad borrowed a horse from Tom Sterling called Snake Eyes. He was a mean horse. They went back up the next day to get the loads of wood. Coming down King's Pass, old Snake Eyes ran out of the road and tipped Dad's wagon load of wood over pinning Dad against the cliff, breaking his leg in two places.

Uncle Charlie was behind him with his load of wood. He stopped his wagon and hurried to help Dad. He got on the wagon wheel and tipped it up and helped Dad to get out. He then unloaded Dad's wagon and got it out of the way. Then after unloading his own wagon, he helped Dad onto his wagon and they made it down to Grape Vine Springs, where Henry and Harriet Peterson lived. They fixed Dad a whiskey sling to help ease his pain.

(Henry went up and got the wood for Dad and Uncle Charlie latter on.)

It was getting late and Uncle Charlie wanted to hurry on to get Dad home. It was only a few more miles on into Leeds and he knew Mother would be worried and she was, of course. She was in her ninth month of pregnancy and four young children at home. She was listening for the sound of the wagon coming over the rocks at the top of town. She and the children went up to meet the wagon. Dad was laying in the back of the wagin, singing. He called to mother and said, "Bring me more whiskey, that's what makes the road smooth." Mother was somewhat upset, as Dad was not a drinking man. They tried to get a doctor for Dad to set his leg, but Dr. Afleck was too d drunk to come until the next night at about five or six o'clock. He finally came and set Dad's leg. They then packed Dad's leg in a box of bran. The doctor gave Dad Lodnum to ease the pain. Dad laid there in bed for 28 days. The leg got to itching so badly, Dad used a walking stick to poke down in the bran to scratch his leg. Later on he got up and around on crutches for about two months. In April he was out prunning trees.

It was a pretty bad time for our family when Dad was laid up so long. I was born just two weeks after Dad's leg was broken, so both parents were bedfast and Verna was the oldest child; she was only 10 years old. Clint, Stanley and Reed were younger, so she had to milk the cow. She said the cow was mean and it kicked her.

They didn't have a doctor for mother when I was born. Julia Ford was the midwife but she didn't get there until after I was born. However they sent Verna for Mame Colbath and both she and her mother (Mrs. Olsen) came to help out. Julia Ford then came every day for three days to care for mother and the baby. Aunt Emma Angell (Charlie's wife) came one day. Susanna Prince Prisby came to help us and she stayed three weeks. My family was grateful to her for ever after for her kindness to us in our time of need.

This story was told to me by my mother and father at our ranch at Granger, Wyoming.

A POEM BY DONALD FULLER

We left Leeds town on the 20th of July.

And before we got to Bunkerville we thought we would die.

We went to cross the river, the roan horse did balk.

To make him pull the wagon out was no use to talk.

I unhooked the horses and went back to get a team.

While I was gone, down came a big stream.

It tipped the wagon over and took it down.

Charlie and the boy did pritty near drown.

I got a piece of rope and it was pritty stout.

In about two minutes I had them both out.

The rest of our trip we went horseback,

What we had left was not hard to pack.

We went on to Chloride and I got a job.

Charlie Connley's horses I began to prode.

We went out to Walopie, I'll never go again.

Got cought in a great big rain.

I then went home my wife for to get.

Took her down to Chloride, the sweet little pet.

BAXTER'S AUFUL GRUB

Don Fuller wrote the words and made up a tune.

Now if you will pay attention
I'll tell to you a ri e
All about the boarding house
Out to the Apex mine.
Where they made cast iron biscuits
Hard as any slug
You would have died
Had you have tried
Baxter's aufui grub.

The coffee had the dropsy
The tea it had La Grippe
The butter was consumptive
The flapjacks had the fits
The meat was sweet and jubulent
It walked upon the floor
The spuds go on their dignity
And rolled right out the door.

The pudding had the jim-jams
The pies were in disguise
The beams came to the table
With ten thousand flies

We howled, we wailed our muscles failed
On Baxter's auful grub

One day a stranger came to camp
He was to St George bent
We invited him to share a meal
With neighborly intent
We blowed him up, we filled his tank
Plum full up to the mug
On acrobatic parositic democratic grub.

When next we heard from the strager
He was in St. George town
Some friends and all the people
His dying bed stood round
"He's gone," one said
His soul has fled
From Baxter's auful grub.

A song Grandpa and Grandma sang

If it wasen't For You

She You needen't sigh. Don't start to cry.

Soon I'll be upon my way, there's no need asking me to stay.

He What did I do?

She That's it, what did you do? Not a thing for me but I did every thing for you.

He You know I had a bunch of girls who followed me about.

She I must have lost my eyesight on the day I picked you out

I mught be having a whole lot of fun. If it wasen't for you.

He What do you mean? If it wasen't for me?

She Somebody else might be calling me hun, if it wasn't for you.

He Diden't I buy a machine?

She Yes but you leave me at home. Don't think that I think you go riding alone.

Don't think that I coulden't have one of my own Believe me! If it wasn't for you.

He Who lives upstairs? I dunno who lives up stairs?

She Take a run up stairs and see, the man that married you and me.

He You mean Parsen B rown?

She Yes old Parsen Brown, Go right up and tell him I just dare him to come down.

He Why he's the man that spoke those words Love Honor and Obey.

She They don't sound big but still they put me where I am to-day.

I might be having a whole lot of fun, If it wasen't for you.

He What do you mean - if it wasn't for me?

She I mean some one might be calling me hun- If it wasen't for you.

He If it wasen't for me? Say I had a dozen girls hanging around.

She Where ever I went, men just worshipped th ground, Maybe I woulden't be hearing this sound

(mama-mama) If it wasn't for you.

A SKETCH OF MY DAD

by Phyllis Anna Fuller Hogge

My dad was always a kind, loving father to me. I don't remember of his ever spanking me or punishing me in any way, although when I became a teenager we did have a few disagreements over the boys I went out with. Dad didn't want me to go out with any boys whose families he disapproved of.

I think my dad was a happy man, although he wasn't much of one to show his feelings, but he was always whistling cheerfully when he was around the house, or working in the yard. Dad was always an early riser and when he got back from the corral in the mornings, after taking care of his animals and milking the cows, he wanted his breakfast and he wanted his family to be up, so I never got to sleep in no matter how badly I wanted to.

When I was growing up, Dad's income came mostly from his cherry orchard, his grape vineyard, and his trapping. At cherry picking time, Dad employed quite a few young people, most of which were my friends and associates. Everybody that ever worked for Dad liked and respected him, and knew him to be honest and fair in all his business dealings. I don't think a more honest man ever lived than my dad. He was not only honest with his fellow men, but he was honest with the Lord. He always paid an honest tithe, he kept the Word of Wisdom, and he never worked on Sunday. Of course, being a farmer, he had to take care of his animals and take the water if his turn came on Sunday, but all other work waited until after the Sabbath to be done. Dad always attended Priesthood and other meetings on Sunday. He loved to go to the Temple, and would go down any time the opportunity presented. Since he didn't drive a car, he was dependent on other people to take him, but he never turned down a chance to go. Dad never drank tea or coffee, and I think I heard him say that he had never tasted liquor, or touched tobacco. I never heard him use profanity or any kind of swear words, even the most common ones.

Dad was a very nice looking man, keeping his good looks most of his life. He was tall and big boned, without an ounce of fat on him. He kept his hair all his life, and it didn't even go gray until he was pretty old too. His health was pretty good most of his life, except for some bouts that he had with rheumatism.

Dad was a very hard working man. He was in his late fifties and early sixties when I was growing up, but he was still working hard, farming in the summer and trapping in the winter. Dad would go to take care of his traps two or three times a week all winter long. He would be gone most of the day, and would get home just in time to take care of his animals. I remember how he would come in the house after being gone all day and would come to the kitchen cupboard to get some oil of wintergreen to take in a teaspoon of sugar, as he felt it helped his rheumatism, which would be acting up after a day of riding in the cold. Dad loved the outdoors, and he especially loved to go up in the mountains. This is probably why he chose to be a trapper, even though it meant that he often had to be gone on extremely cold, stormy days. I'm sure that he really enjoyed this kind of work. And during those depression days, every extra bit of money really helped.

I know that by the time I came into the family Dad had overcome any bad character traits that he may have had in his younger days, and as far as I am concerned he was one of the kindest, finest men that ever lived.

Life itself can't give you joy
Unless you will it.
Life just gives you time and space,
It's up to you to fill it.

A SKETCH OF MY MOTHER

by Phyllis Anna Fuller Hogge

I was the ninth child in our family of nine. My mother was nearly 48 years old, and my dad was 46 years old when I was born. My brother Oral was next to me in age, and he was 8 years old when I was born. Now that I am in my fifties, I realize that it must have been rather hard on my parents to start all over again raising a baby when they were beginning to feel old age creeping up on them. But they always made me feel that I was a welcome addition to the family. I always felt loved and wanted by them. I always felt that I had the very best parents in the world.

Mama was always rather heavy set as I remember her, but she was a beautiful woman, with her pretty pink complexion, and lovely white hair. She was as lovely inside as she was on the out. She loved her family, her home, her flowers, and her quilts. She hadn't had a chance to have much education, but she always seemed like a cultured, well educated woman. She was a school teacher before her marriage, taking over the school teaching job as soon as she graduated from grammer school. She was never able to get any more education than that. She loved being a school teacher, and she always hoped that some of her children would become school teachers. She liked to read, whenever she got a chance to get anything to read, and she always used to read aloud to the family in the evening, whenever she could find a good book that she thought we would enjoy. She also liked poetry, and kept a scrapbook of poems, that she referred to often. She spent a lot of her spare time cutting out quilt blocks and piecing quilts. The pattern she used the most often was the double wedding ring, and she made many of these quilts for wedding gifts, etc., for her family. I think raising flowers was her favorite hobby. I remember when I was growing up that she used to get up early before it got so hot, and went out and worked in her flower gardens. She had a perennial garden in which she raised roses, carnations, pinks, lilies, phlox, etc. And in the front of the house she had two smaller gardens with verbenas and petunias in.

Mama was Relief Society President for about five years when I was growing up, and I think during this time the people in Leeds came to depend on her in times of trouble, because after she quit being President, people would still come to her for help. She had a very sympathetic nature, and tried to do anything she could to help anyone who needed her. Mama wasn't the kind of person who went to peoples' places just to visit, if she went somewhere there was a reason to go, but the women in town seemed to enjoy visiting with her, and some of them would come to the house quite often. Mama always told me to be f friends with many, but intimate with few. And she seemed to live by this saying herself. She never gossipped about people, was friendly with everyone, seemed to like everyone, but seemed to be perfectly content with her home, her family and her hobbies.

Mama wasn't an outstanding cook, but then she really didn't have much of a variety of food to cook with. But she surely made delicious bread. You could almost make a meal with her fresh bread and jam. And in the summertime when the garden stuff was on, the fresh vegetables that she cooked were really delicious.

Mama did lots of sewing, making most of her own clothes, as well as her childrens' clothes. Most of the time she didn't even have a pattern to use, and those she did have were nothing like the patterns we have today. Most of her sewing was done on the old treadle sewing machine.

Mom wasn't too well in her later years, but she never complained about her health. The only time I heard her complain was about her feet. And they were really bad, they must have really hurt her a lot. In my estimation my mother was one of the best women that ever lived. In her lifetime she developed many wonderful attributes, and her descendents can be proud that they have descended from this lovely woman.

MOTHER LOVE

Count the minutes as they fly,
Count the flowers, the stars above,
But no one may ever count
All of Mother's acts of love.

DONALD FULLER AND LAVINIA ANGELL

by Helen Pope Fuller
June 26, 1958

As a daughter-in-law I knew Donald Fuller and Lavinia Angell. Donald Fuller's father, Elijah Knapp Fuller, had the following wives: Ellen Celestia Woodward in 1951 (children: Harriet Ellen, Lucy Maria, Zlipha Diadama, Elijah Knapp, David Amos, John Hiram, Mary Celestia, Manson James, Katie Chloe, Ornon, and Edith Woodward); Ellen did not live with E. K. Fuller for years and finally went to Arizona. He married Elizabeth Vaughn in 1861 and came to Dixie in 1861. A child, Elizabeth was born who died and they were both buried in the same grave. Aunt Orpha is dead so I can not get it straight from her, but he must have had two wives for awhile.

When Elijah Knapp Fuller, according to Donald and Lavinia Fuller, wanted to marry Harriet Alice Walker, his wife Ellen Celestia asked him to give her a legal divorce. He said he would have been glad to do so had the man she had in mind to marry been a good man with a worthwhile character. He took her and her large family to Arizona where the means of obtaining a living were better. Aunt Orpha said that the children all propsered and married well.

In 1866, he married Harriet Alice Walker and remained in Harrisburg where Elijah Knapp had lived for years. They had a large family, many of whom I knew. The children were the following: Maria Amelia, Harriet Ellen, Suzannah, Elijah Donald, Martha Florence, Janie May, Vilate Abigal, and Chloe Bell.

Of course Elijah was old (55) when he married the sixth time. Donald and Vinnie told me how he fell from off a load of hay and injured himself and died. Donald Knapp was left at the age of twelve to take the place of the father for his mother and sisters. He told of all the hard work and responsibilities he bore all his life.

Before we leave Elijah Enapp and go to Elijah Donald, I would like to say that Aunt Orpha and others told me that Elijah Knapp was an honest, hard working, adventurous man. He is mentioned in Utah History books as one to go ahead with the explorations for others to follow. An early pioneer stopped to talk to Reed and I after we were married and walking up the street together. David McMullin was a very old man. He looked at Reed real well and said, "Elijah Knapp Fuller will never be dead as long as you are alive."

They say that when the poor struggling pioneers got some dried peaches and molasses or anything else they could give it to Elijah Knapp when he went out to trade and tell them the size of the shoes or the coat or whatever they needed and he would come back with more nearly what was needed and more for the trade than any other man. I understand he would trade for unbroken horses and bring them home, break them and trade the horses off for things they needed.

Elijah undoubtedly was a man of courage and adventure. Aunt Orpha, as an old woman, recalled with bitterness that he could be very stern correcting members of his own family. If a stranger or neighbor came on the place he would visit in a most friendly, pleasant way. When the visitor left, he would return to the same attitude or reprimanding his own family.

Now for Elijah Donald. Elijah Donald was a true, natural-born gentleman. He loved his wife Lavinia and did all he could to show he did. He did many kindly, thoughtful things for everyone. He was a hard worker. He was not a daring, adventurous man. One of the nicest tributes I ever heard a woman pay her husband was in June, 1956 when all the children were assembled. This was their 50th wedding anniversary. They asked mother to speak. She told when Donald bought the house they lived in and moved into Leeds. Many scoffed at his even trying to do such a thing, but he succeeded Lavinia was a warm, loving good mother. Of course when she had such a large family, much of her food was starchy. When I first met her in 1928 and after I was married, she was very fat and had diabetes. She had this ailment for more than 30 years when she died in 1957. Very few mothers could have so many children and so many daughters-in-law and be so fair and good all around. After I had been married about 10 years she lost much of this weight and not in good health. Dad Fuller was always good to her. He often spent money for things she wanted instead of buying what he needed in his farming.

Mother decided she needed a new table. Father replied, "This table is big and accomodates our family; we have eaten many a fine meal on it; why do we need a new one?" She replied, "It is uneven. It has ribs, it is old, and it is ugly." She stayed with it for months. Finally, he took her to St. George and she bought a beautiful gate leg table. All she could do was complain how unhandy it was and how the legs got in the diner's way, and she went back to using another table. When Reed and I later moved into a furnished house in St. George, we gave her the round table with leaves from our new home, which she used to the end of her days.

The Fullers lived all their lives in Leeds. Mother wished so much to go some place else where there was more opportunity. Life was really hard. The first ti e I went to Dixie, which was in 1924, I was shocked to see the highway in places in Dixie that were narrow, dirt roads. The dugways around the mountains were so narrow one car would have to pull up and stop at a wider place to let another car pass. On this trip I made the remark that if the Lord would forgive me going to Dixie this time, I would never go again. What did I do but meet Reed Fuller, a Dixieite and in May 24, 1929, we were married in the Salt Lake Temple. The roads were made much better in the meantime.

When Don and Vinnie Fuller were raising their nine children, there was no school bus service to St. George. Mrs. Fuller lived at least one winter while some of the children were in high school. Most of the children received not very much high school education. None were graduated but the youngest, Phyllis, who was born nine years after Lavinia thought she was through having children. Phyllis finished high school in business and went to Salt Lake to be a secretary. She married and lived there.

Mother Fuller told about being so hungry for meat during her pregnancies. There was no such thing as refrigeration. They either had the whole carcass or no meat at all. It was 17 miles to St. George. In the horse and buggy days this was a full day's trip. When they finally got there, they had to buy what they could get. I remember when my mother-in-law or my husband would would part with their money for an article which did not please them. I wonder why they would do so. I had been born and raised in Salt Lake where I could shop until the article that I wanted was found. One day after Reed came home with a pair of trousers he did not like, I asked him why he bought them. He says I guess it is a carry over from when I was a boy. We had a hard time getting money and when we finally got to St. George, we bought what we could get or the money would be gone for something else.

Speaking of refrigeration. The first mechanical refrigerators were a marvelous luxury. Mother Fuller had one several years before I did. I was married in 1929 and did not have a mechanical refrigerator for seven years. It seemed like heaven to have one.

Donald and Lavinia's children had a fine sense of loyalty to their parents and to each other.

Maida Fuller Sullivan and her husband, Bert, looked after mother and dad Fuller while they were still able to live by themselves. Mother Fuller outlasted Dad Fuller a few months although she had been ailing for many years. When all the children were grown and gone (about 1950), Dad Fuller had an attack of influenza and shortly after, had an attack and stroke. His whole left side was partly out of commission after it. At one time, during this illness when he was in the hospital and it looked like he was nearly dead all the children went down to see him. They thought it might be the last time they would see him alive. Reed and Eldon got the doctor aside and asked if there was something that might be done for their father, that had not been done. The doctor replied, "Yes, there is but it is very expensive." They said to go ahead and do it. When the bill came it was $500.00. Reed and Eldon each paid half of it. I never heard of such things. Some of the shots cost $16.00 a piece. Father Fuller never was anywhere the same again. He said to Reed and I while we were still in our home in Flowell that they should have let him die while he was in the hospital.

Dad's illness was so long that mother said to me she wondered what they had given him to give him such vitality. She said that besides his nearly being bedfast, his endurance was amazing even after he broke his hip and was bedfast. He lasted for nearly two years. Mother took a stroke before he died and could not help him. Maida and Bert sold their home in St. George and lived right with them to t the last. This Maida and Bert did and we all feel deep gratitude for this.

One cannot truly tell the life of Lavinia Fuller without telling about th the torture she went through with bunnions and her left foot had been so encased in shoes that were too small that a distorted growth had come on the palm of her left foot. It had large corns on it. As she grew older we were greatly afraid she might have had to have her foot amputated.

Before she lost weight that made an extra burden on her feet I felt very sorry for her. Her bare feet made you hurt to look at them. I asked her once why she bought such small shoes. Someone else had bought them for her, the precious money was spent, and that was all the shoes she had. Later she got enough money together to visit Phoebe in Idaho. In the rush of going and stretching the money she purchased shoes which hurt her feet and made the old troubles worse.

Mother Fuller read to her children. She had been a Sunday School teacher. Dad Fuller freighted by team for a living. He had a good sense of humor and the stories they exchanged around the campfire were a source of such pleasure to them. He and mother used to sing together. Dixie people lived on bread and milk, molasses, pork and squash.

FAMILY HISTORY
CLIFFORD AND VERNA McMULLIN

Verna was the first-born of nine children born to Donald and LaVinia Fuller. She entered the world in the early summer of 1897 in a small frame home that her parents were renting in Leeds, Utah.

Five years earlier in the same month Clifford Hartley was born in a stone house in the same little town. He was the eighth child born to Brigham Young McMullin and Ada Parker McMullin. They would have thirteen children.

Verna and Clifford first noticed each other during their school days. When she was fourteen he walked her home from a party. Later when she was nineteen he proposed to her out by the front gate of her parents home. She told him if he would leave drink, tobacco and bad language alone she would marry him when he became worthy of going to the temple. He made her a promise that he would do so and on June 14, 1917 they were married in the St. George Temple. Clifford sold a cow and calf for $50 to get married on.

Verna had a best friend named Edna, they loved each other so much that they decided to get married the same day. Edna married Leonard Dalton from Rockville. The two young couples gave a wedding dance.

Clifford and Verna lived with Verna's folks for a short time and then they bought her Grandmother Fuller's house from her father. In the second year of the marriage Clifford was drafted and had to go fight in the first world war. Verna was 6 months along with their first child. A month later she came down with the whopping cough. It was pretty rough so her parents insisted that she come stay with them until Clifford came home.

When the baby was born in Sept. 1918, Clifford was in France in the hospital with plural pneumonia. The baby was named Clifford LaFrance. When the father got home from the Army it was hard to find work so he worked in the mines and tried some farming. The young couple worked hard trying to get ahead a bit. In the meantime in March of 1920 another son, Dustin, was born. He was premature and had a hard start. Verna's mother came to help and between the two the baby lived and grew and did fine. About a year and a half later still another boy Earl Donald was born in October of 1921. Verna was so sick that she couldn't keep much but mint tea down.

When Earl was 3 years old they traded their place for a homestead up on the Bananza Flat. They had a cow, some turkeys and chickens. Clifford went to Nevada to find work. Two years later they got their little girl, Ada Lois. She was also born premature but with tender care she did alright. She was born in December 1926 in St. George at Verna's mother's place.

Just a week before their fourth son, Terrell, was born they moved from the Flat to the Neigle Place just North of Leeds. That was 1928. They had a garden, fruit and hay and raised turkeys the first year. In 1930 still another son, Clinton Morrell was born. Clifford went down to Nevada to work for awhile that winter. Verna managed to stay there with 5 kids to care for with no electricity, a wood stove with not much wood, her washer was a tub and washboard. The kids liked it pretty well, they had hills to roam, horses to ride and tailings to play in.

Clifford got a job up to Silver Reef in the mines at $5 a day, so they did a little better. The family moved to Silver Reef until school time in the fall. Lois was 6 then and would start school and her parents decided the 2 miles from Silver Reef was too far for her to walk, so they moved into Leeds into an apartment. They got the kids in school and Clifford got a job on the new bridge being built across the Virgin River. He was sick much of the time, he had carbunkles on his legs and in his throat. He had to go to the Dr. in Hurricane to have them lanced. They then bought a lot from Clifford's brother, Willard. They bought a one room house and sat it on the lot and began to build on to it. Clifford took lumber as part pay on the job on the bridge. They ended up with 4 rooms. Their seventh child, another boy was born that winter of 1936 in the back bedroom. They named him LaRay Stanley.

Clifford had a hard job helping to build the Zion Canyon Tunnel through a mountain. He stayed in Springdale all week and went home for the week-ends. When their youngest child, Ray, was almost three their oldest child, France, got married on France's birthday, 28 Sept. 1939. He married Inez Johnson who was from Hurricane. The next June the second son, Dustin, married Helen May Sant, she was Aunt Sadie Fuller's sister from Clifton, Idaho.

Clifford had gone to Salt Lake City to get a job, he found another hard one at a concrete pipe company. Verna's sister Maida and her husband Bert took her to Salt Lake to see Clifford and she talked him into coming home with her to sell out and move up to Salt Lake City. They left Leeds the day after Thanksgiving. They had everything packed so they had sandwiches for their Thanksgiving dinner. Ray was four years old. They landed in Salt Lake in a big snow storm. The house they had bought in Sweed Town was still occupied so they had to stay in a motel for 10 days. The concrete pipe co. had closed down for the winter so Clifford got a job in a mine down to Milford for a month. When he ·nt home he was so pale and thin that Verna didn't want him to go back. She got a job at the Welfare Square working in the clothing department ·r groceries and clothes. Clifford finally got on at the Veterans Hospital in the kitchen. Lois was 14 and was a real help to her mother then.

A year later the family moved to a large red brick home on Wall st. across the way from St. Marks hospital. Verna took in boarders and did washing to help make the payments. Clifford got a job out to the Arsenal by Hill Air Force Base and was making a long ride every day so they rented the big red house out and bought a brand new house in Clearfield. While they lived there both France and Dustin were drafted into the Army. France was sent to Germany and Dustin to Japan where he was wounded quite bad.

About 2 years later they sold the house in Clearfield and moved back to the red brick in S.L.C. Verna's brother, Reed, went to see them and told them of a farm out by Riverton that was for sale that he thought was a good buy. Verna didn't want to farm but Clifford wanted to try it, so they took Earl, Morrell and Ray and moved out. Terrell had joined the Navy, Lois didn't want to go so she stayed in Salt Lake. The farm was such hard work, they had 800 chickens, 10 cows, some pigs and gardens. Earl left and went to Nevada. The next Spring France wrote from Hurricane and wanted to move his family out to the farm. There were a lot of mouths to feed and the farm wasn't making much, milk and eggs were cheap. Clifford decided to go back to work at the Arsenal so they moved out to Roy and rented a house and put the farm up for sale. France and Inez and their children stayed there until it was sold. In the meantime Lois had married Robert Monger, and Morrell had joined the Navy.

After the farm was sold Clifford and Verna bought a house in Layton, and bought some furniture. Soon after this move Verna became ill and had to have an operation. Morrell married Norma Lewis and Terrell married Wanda Stoddard and Earl married Vera Wiggle. They didn't care for the house in Layton and Clifford wanted to get closer to his job so they sold the house and bought 1½ acres on the east side of the canal in Sunset. They worked so hard building a house there and trying to make a nice place to live. They planted about 15 fruit trees, big lawns, a garden and Verna had a lot of flower gardens, she had 750 Iris. They lived there longer than any other place. Ray graduated from high school and went to work at Hill Air Force Base. He was then drafted into the Army where he met and married a Wac named Charline Wright.

Clifford was sick quite a bit and was retired from the Arsenal in 1960. About that time the State Highway people visited them and told them a freeway would be built right through their place. So they decided to go back to Utah's Dixie to look around. They bought a place in St. George, and began working on it to fix it up. The next year Clifford was going to Salt Lake to settle up with the State Road on the Sunset Place and had an accident in a snow storm. He was pretty badly hurt and was taken to Nephi in an ambulance. He had to have allot of stitches in his face, he was pretty tough though and healed up fast. They liked their home and enjoyed living in St. George, especially with the Chadburns as neighbors. But, it was so hot in July and Verna loved working in the yard and passed out with the heat. Dr. McGregor told Clifford to get her out of the heat and not to bring her back. They bought an Econoline Travel Van and an older home in Washington that needed work on it. Verna's sister, Maida, died that Feb. It was unexpected and Verna took it pretty hard as they had been close friends as well as sisters. Clifford and Verna decided to travel a bit in their Econoline to get their minds on something else. They went down to the lower end of Death Valley and while there the stove in the Van blew up and filled the Van with fire. Verna was outside but Clifford was burned on the face, neck, arms and hands quite bad. There he stood with his shirt burned off, all but the collar and cuffs, but where his garments were was not even scorched. They considered that a miracle. Clifford had to drive the Van to the nearest town where they stopped at a motel but there wasn't a Dr. there. The people that ran the motel took ·iem to the nearest town with an AirPort and the County Dr. flew his plane in to get them. He flew them to Lone Pine to the nearest hospital where Clifford stayed for 3 days. Verna stayed in a motel across the street. Some mormons took them to stay in their home until Clifford was able to travel. In the meantime Terrell had divorced his first wife and later married Ardella Day. She had three children from a previous marriage which Terrell adopted and they were sealed as a family in the temple. Anyway, Terrell and Ardella went to Lone Pine to help Clifford and Verna get back home to Washington. Verna doctored Clifford for several weeks and he healed well with hardly any scars. He didn't like the travel van any more and traded it off. They lived and worked on their place another year. Clifford was in the American Legion and went to Boys State in Logan to be a counselor to a bunch of boys for 10 days. While he was gone Verna came down with a terrible pain in the night, finally had to have a neighbor take her to the hospital. Clifford got home early the next morning and found her gone. The neighbors told him where whe was. Dr. McGregor Xrayed her and found a kidney stone so he sent her to Salt Lake for the operation. She was terribly sick for quite a few days and got an infection which took awhile to clear up. While they lived in Washington they did quite a bit of traveling, even bought a piece of land in New Mexico and made a trip down there.

They had some friends named Hatch that were going on a mission for the L.D.S. Church and they wanted Clifford and Verna to live in their place and take care of it for them. So they rented their Washington place out and moved to St. George to the Hatches place. After that they bought an old home in St. George and did a lot of work on it for 2 years then sold it and moved back to the Washington place for about 8 months. Just before going back to Washington they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Lois gave a big party for them at her home in Salt Lake. So many friends and family members were there during that day. Such fond memories they have of that special day. While living in Washington they went to visit Edna in Hurricane and saw an old home for sale so they bought it and started fixing it up. Then eight more months went by and another move to Northern Utah into a mobile home in Clearfield. A week later they went on a Bus Tour back East to the Pageant in Palmyra, New York. They visited points of interest in 21 states, made friends they still have and had a wonderful time. Morrell had been sick for quite some time and November 23, 1971 he passed away from cancer. Clifford and Verna and all of their children and their mates went to California for the funeral. What a sad Thanksgiving time.

Two years later in 1973 they moved into a house 2 doors down from Earl in Clearfield. It was kind of a mess so Terrell and Ray helped work on it some. Lois had been divorced and remarried. She married Memory Cain and they were living in Florida. Dustin and Helen payed the way for Clifford and Verna to fly back to Florida for a month long visit. Memory and Lois took them to see the Florida Keyes, Edison's home in Ft. Myers and the Cyprus Gardens and did everything to make their stay a good one. Then Memory paid their way back home. They planted a big garden at the back of the lot and worked hard in the yard. After three years they got homesick for St. George so they sold their home in Clearfield to Ray and his family and bought a home close to the St. George Temple. Just before they moved Verna got a bad case of the shingles and was so terribly sick. They had a hard go of it for quite awhile, Verna was sick and so weak for such a long time and Clifford had his second hip operation and was laid up. Their good friends the Chadburns helped them out so much.

Dustin's wife, Helen, had had crippling arthritis all her married life and had really put up a good fight, but, she died in 1978. They had one daughter, Micky, who is married and has 2 children. France and Inez have 4 children and 8 grandchildren. Earl and Vera have one married daughter. Lois and her first husband had three children, two of them are married and each of these have 1 child. Terrell had 1 daughter from his first marriage and he and Ardella have three grown children and three grandchildren. Morrell had four children from his first marriage and four from his second marriage. Ray and Charline have 5 children and one more due in June of 1979.

In 1978 Clifford and Verna moved back to Northern Utah. They live in a new mobile home in Clearfield. Clifford is 86 years old and gets along good with his new hips. Verna is 81 and is finally getting over the affects of the shingles and is beginning to get her strength back. For quite a few years they have been going up to Montana to a health mine during the summer. They have met a lot of wonderful people and hope to be able to go for many more summers. Over the years they have remained faithful to their membership in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and have held various Church positions. Verna taught in the Primary and Sunday School, was secretary in Primary and Mutual and was a visiting teacher in Relief Society for over 35 years. Clifford was in the Superintendency of the Sunday School, 1st Counselor in Elders Quorum Presidency, served a 2 year Stake Mission and was a Counselor in his High Priest Group.

They still get awfully homesick for Utah's Dixie. They have been married for 61 years and have had a sometimes hard but interesting life.

FAMILY HISTORY
RAY AND CHARLINE McMULLIN

The house was a small cottage with a special window in the kitchen for Verna's house plants. It was the fall of the year 1936 when a seventh child was born in the back bedroom of this house in Southern Utah. They named him LaRay Stanley. Ray asked his mother later if they named him LaRay because they wanted a girl and his mother said, "No, if you had been a girl we'd have named you Edna."

Five years later in a small railroad-logging town called Portola, situated high in the mountains among the pine trees of California, on Thanksgiving Day, a baby girl was born. Her parents named her Charline Helena.

Eighteen years later Ray and Charline were both in the U.S. Army, stationed at the Presidio of Monterey in California. Charline's room-mate had a crush on this "darling" guy named Ray. As soon as he got back from leave in Utah she was going to give him the rush. She talked of hardly anything else to Charline. One afternoon a young man entered the Personnel Building where Charline worked. He asked one of the men who also worked there to introduce him to her. Did she hear correctly, did he say, "Ray McMullin" and wasn't that Marie's "darling" guy?" A couple of hours later he called her asking her for a date.

Three months later on Labor Day week-end they were married. They moved into a tiny two room and bath apartment above a garage. Charline tried hard to learn how to cook. Ray wanted to encourage her as much as possible by eating everything she fixed until he realized he had gained about 25 pounds. Charline was putting on a little weight herself, but for a different reason.

The first child was born in an Army hospital. She was "darling", had straight dark hair and a reddish-brown complexion. She looked a lot like her Dad and was named Rena Rae, after him. Oh, that baby liked to cry! The first night home her bassinet was placed at the foot of her parents bed. Not one of the three got any sleep and thereafter she slept in the kitchen-living room.

Six weeks later the father of this new family received his Honorable Discharge from the U.S. Army. He bought a small utility trailer from his landlord, packed the family belongings in it, put his new daughter, in her car bed, in the back seat of his souped-up 1941 Cadilac, his wife in front with him and they headed for Utah, by way of Portola. Ray had a good job waiting for him at Hill Air Force Base so Charline (even though she missed the small town she had been raized in) said, "whither thou goest." The family first lived in a house they borrowed from the state of Utah. Ray had helped his parents build this house when he was a boy, but the freeway needed the ground it rested on. Ray's parents had gone back to Utah's Dixie. Ray's job involved going on "Temporary Duty" (hereafter referred to as T.D.Y.). He spent a lot of months away from his wife and daughter and they missed him dreadfully.

A couple of months after the move to Utah the family discovered that Zion, and their number, would increase. They began to hunt for their own home. The first one they looked at was "it" but it had already been sold. Well, Ray has a way of getting what he wants so he went right up to the door and talked the young couple, that had just bought it, into selling it to him.

New Years Eve the excited young family slept "at home". The two-story house needed a lot of fixing up, so that is just what they did. Grandma Wright from California came to help with the painting. She also came to help when it was about time for the second child to be born, as she had done with the first. Well, she came two weeks early and the baby came two weeks late so it was a long wait! This child did things in her own way right from the start. She was born breech and almost didn't give her parents time to get to the hospital. She didn't really cry much, but would grunt instead. She was named Tina after the Grandma from California.

By this time some of the T.D.Y. trips were turned into family vacations when Charline and the girls got to go along. They were able to see such things as the cherry blossoms in Washington, D.C., the faces of Mt. Rushmore in South Dakota, the Mesa Temple in Arizona and the beautiful parks in Spokane, Washington. While they were in Rapid City, Ray and Charline decided that something was missing from their marriage. They agreed that activity in the L.D.S. Church and to be sealed as a family in the temple was what they wanted. They got busy right away, even started drinking postum. As they were having their morning cup one day, the thought dawned on both of them at the same time, "I never did drink coffee or tea, why am I drinking postum?" What a good laugh they had! On that special day in May when they brought two beautiful angel babies all dressed in white and sat them on the alter and the family was sealed for time and all eternity, real joy was discovered.

In the meantime the family of four had been watching a new housing project beginning just in view of their kitchen window. They got a strong case of "The Grass is Greener" and before they knew it they were moving into a brand new home in "Valhalla". A son was born while the family lived here. Ray was present on this occasion and "It's a boy" was heard throughout the whole maternity ward at that moment. The proud parents had been saving a special name, after Ray's brother and Charline's father, and were pleased to name the little guy Dustin. Dusty loved being a boy and became a sports nut right from the start. He only had one problem, he was smaller than average, he tried hard to make up for it though. Charline learned to drive while they lived there, quite a tramatic experience if you ask her.

After a T.D.Y. trip to Arizona and a visit to a "Mystery Castle" there, the adventuresome young couple decided to look for a "Mystery Castle" of their own. They found it in Roy, Utah. It was actually a funny little house that went every which way and had more halls than rooms, just about. Oh, but it was a mess! So they rolled up their sleeves and went to work. Another little girl joined the happy group while they lived there. What a pleasant child, cheerful and friendly. Charline had been reading some family history and came across the name LaVinia. What a beautiful, feminine name, perfect for this child, after her Great Grandmother Fuller.

The T.D.Y. trips continued for about four years, until Rena started school and the family could no longer go along. Just at the right time Ray was promoted to a desk job on base. No more T.D.Y.

Just about the time the house was all fixed up and a special goal of being completely out of debt was within reach, Charline got a phone call from Ray while he was at work. He told her to show the house to a man that would be there at 2 o'clock, and for her to be ready to go look at a new house in Mt. Green at 3:45. Off to the mountains and another new house and a year of fun social activities; snowmobiling in the middle of the night, block dinner parties, young marrieds study groups and activity in a very active church ward. But what about the goal?

So, off to Westpoint where the goal was reached. But, what about the garage Ray needed and the bedrooms downstairs that weren't there yet? So, back into debt to reach these goals. Just as the home was being finished the inconvenience of driving everywhere they went and other problems prompted still another move. So, back to Roy they went.

Soon after the family moved into a lovely home there, another daughter was born. She looked just like her oldest sister and the whole family was delighted to have her join them, even Dusty, he had really been hoping for a little brother. What a treasure she was, in fact that is just what they named her, Treasure.

One day Ray stayed home from work and while Charline was at Relief Society he went shopping. When he got home he said, "Guess what I bought. A mini bike and a piano!" What a shock. Well, the mini bike is long gone but the piano music will be around as long as there are a pair of eager little hands to learn. (Some are not so eager.)

Three happy years of luxury, but something wasn't right. Financial security seemed to be just out of reach and the old goal of complete freedom from debt kept bugging them. Ray's parents were living in Clearfield in a cute little white cottage but they wanted to go back to St. George. The goal was reached for sure this time when Ray and Charline "bought" the white house. They got busy right away, this time with children old enough to help, stripping seven layers of wall paper off, finishing the basement, adding a big front porch and a white picket fence. Ray still wants to build on to the garage so he will have a place for the '41 Cad that he still has. The little girls want a playhouse in the backyard. The family enjoys living in Clearfield in their cute little house. The children are growing up; Rena is a Senior, Tina is in 11th grade, Dusty in 7th, Vinnie 4th, and Treasure started Kindergarten in this year of 1978. The not-so-little family is still growing as there will be a new baby sometime next June if all goes well. (Dusty wants to know if there is still hope for a little brother.)

Over the years Ray and Charline have held various church positions. Their membership in the L.D.S. Church has become a complete and joyful way of life. Ray now serves as 2nd Counselor in his ward's Bishopric and Charline teaches the Mother Education Lesson in Relief Society. Their oldest daughter, Rena, teaches Primary.

This field is mine and God's.
He send the rain, I break the clods.
I plant the seed and pull the weeds
He lights a fire in every swelling pod;
I tend the green flames.
He fans them with the south winds,
Warms them with the sun, feeds them with the moon.
We wait. The season done, we will divide the yield
This field belongs to me and God.

Life History of Lisle Stanley and Sadie Fuller

Lisle Stanley Fuller

I have always enjoyed caring for animals, tilling the soil, and planting and caring for fruit trees. Utah's Dixie, where I was born, has a semi-tropical climate well suited fro raising fruit.

I was the 3rd child of a family of 9 children. My 4 brothers and I helped milk cows, pick fruit, almonds and grapes and rode our ponies to our favorite fishing holes along the Leeds Creek. When we were older, we took pack outfits and went up on Pine Valley Mountains for 'camp-outs'.

After graduating from the 8th grade in Leeds School, I attended Dixie High at St. George, Utah and later, the Branch Agricultural College at Cedar City, Utah.

The summer I turned 16, Laurence McMullin and I went to work at the Grand Gulch Mine near St. Thomas, Nevada. This was my first time away from home to work where there were many rough vulgar types of men. My mother's regular loving letters helped to keep me on the right track.

Later I worked at the American Borax mine about 30 miles from Las Vegas, Nevada. After my mission I worked in the mines near home at Silver Reef. Other jobs I held were road building jobs in Zion Park and Grand Canyon. I drove a team and scraper and helped build the road from Leeds to Cedar City over the Black Ridge. I helped put in the road through the area known as Purgatory. This was a hot job.

I bought a piece of land from my father over at Connelly Field. This was the first farm I owned.'

In 1927 I was called to the Central States Mission and sent to labor in Houston, Texas. I worked in the mission field for 27 months. Often we went out without 'purse or script', depending on the kindness of the people for food and a place to sleep.

I have had the privilege of serving in various capacities in the church; Sunday School teacher, scout master, Elder's Quorum President, Bishop of Leeds Ward, St. George Stake for 6 years, High Councelor in Oneida Stake, Idaho.

When I returned home from my mission, my aim was to find a wife. I went with many fine girls but none of them seemed to be the right one. One Sunday there was a visitor attended the Sunday School class I was teaching. She came with a friend Fern Rees, who introduced us after church. This pretty little red-headed girl had something special about her. I determined to make her my wife. We were married 1 June 1934 in the Logan Temple.

For 4 years we made our home in Leeds, Utah where we rented the tithing building. Our first child, McKay was born here. We next bought the home of Clinton Fuller, my brother. Five of our sons were born while living in Dixie. When Kenny was 9 months old we moved to Richmond, Utah and went into the dairy business. The reason for moving was the doctor's advice concerning Sadie's health. She couldn't stand the Dixie heat any longer.

We have lived in several places since that time. When Kendall was 8 years old and we were living in North Ogden, we had another baby boy that we named Steven Ray.

A 100 acre farm and dairy we owned at one time was at Dayton, Idaho. We moved here to be nearer Sadie's father who was getting older and lived alone. After he passed away, we bought the old Sant place, remodeled it and planted 4 acres of raspberries.

While we were living at Dayton and later Clifton, Sadie went back to teaching to help provide the finances to send the boys on their missions. She taught English and Speech at West Side High for ten years, taking care of her home and family also and serving various capacities in the church. Some of these church capacities were: Secretary of Sunday School, in the Presidency of the Primary, Releif Society, and M.I.A.; Spiritual Living, Social Relations, Cultural Refinement Leaders in the Releif Society, Teacher in Sunday School and MIA, Organist of S.S. and Primary, and on the Stake Board for the Releif Society.

All six boys have filled honorable missions and are married to lovely girls. We are proud to have our first grandson, Stanton Fuller in the Hong Kong Mission. We have 30 grandchildren - 20 boys and 10 girls.

We have health problems now and have retired this summer 1978 to a small home near the church in Dayton, Idaho again. Here we intend to live happily ever after and then some.

S. MCKAY FULLER PERSONAL HISTORY--October, 1978

I was born in Leeds, Utah, on April 29, 1935, son of L. Stanley Fuller and Sarah Jane (Sadie) Sant Fuller. I can't remember too much about that but according to what I've been told, I was very small (about 4½ pounds) being premature and awful to gaze upon because of the hard tie I had getting into the world. They had to use some kind of an instrument on me like a post hole digger and my head and face got all messed up in the process. I guess I soon discovered I was really alive and began to grow and develop until now I sometimes wish I were just a little smaller.

My early childhood was spent in Leeds, living first in the tithing house where I was born and later moving up the street into an adobe home built by my Uncle Clint. The school was two rooms with the first to sixth grades on the one side where I was. One teacher taught all six grades and most of the time there was less than twenty total in the six grades. My class consisted of myself, Culbert Sterling, Wesley Sullivan, and Idona Egar. We may have had some others come and go but these were the basic old standbys.

I was baptized by my father on my eighth birthday in a pond west of town. I remember even in Dixie on April 29, it's just a little cool for a dip in the pond. I remember doing all the things that youngsters do in the church. They used to ring a bell a few minutes before church ti e and everyone would start for the chapel. It seemed to me as a child that the church was the center of everything in the town and I guess for most people it really was.

I had a Deseret News paper route as a boy in Leeds with about twenty-five papers. I had lots of problems with flats on my bike (skinny tires) because of the puncture burrs that were everywhere. I sold fruit in a stand on the hiway (mostly cherries) as a youth, also going with my Dad pedaling fruit and brooms, etc. to the towns up north about 150 miles or so.

We moved to Richmond, Utah from Leeds in my 12th years during the 6th grade. In connection with this we got the first car, a 1933 Ford two-door V8 and all. Before that we always had a truck or pickup, and I can remember standing up in the truck so I could see out to see where we were going. Dad and Uncle Reed had a ranch up by Pine Valley Mountain and I can remember going up there a lot always in a truck.

Back to Richmond, we had a dairy farm there with plenty of chores to do and lots of farm work in the summer. I went to the rest of the sixth grade there and then to Smithfield Jr. High. I thought at the time, these were really big schools and I might not find my way around in them, after all they were much more than one room. We had an eighth grade basketball team which I made and it was a lot of fun. I had a devastating two-hand shot in those and that was about all. I ran the dashes at Smithfield health days placing in the first five or so.

In 1949, the year of the big snow, we moved to Cresent Utah (near Sandy). I went to Draper Jr. High playing ball a little on the team. Basketball was the only sport we played at that time against other schools.

We had at that time, a 1939 Chrysler, bought from the banker in Richmond. The snow was really deep and drifted. The cars could go down the roads where they were plowed out and you couldn't see them it was so deep. Much school was missed and people just had to stay home for weeks at a time.

I was introduced to raspberries at this time and from my end of the stick, they were bad news. We had a few cows and other farm animals, but mostly a fruit farm with berries being in the forefront.

Dad got a Studebaker car and a truck while we lived there and I got in a bad wreck in the car right in the middle of Draper, when I was sixteen. It's a wonder it didn't kill me as all four doors flew open on impact and I slid out and across the street on the seat of my pants.

I went to Jordan High, home, home of the Beetdiggers, graduating in 1953. It was a good school with lots of tradition and reputation. The family moved again in the spring of 1953 to North Ogden, Utah. I stayed with the Jenson family in Cresent so I could graduate at Jordan and not change schools with only a couple of months to go.

I began work at Utah Concrete Pipe Co. that summer (1953) and got laid off that winter and worked stacking sugar at Layton Sugar Co. I got back on at the pipe company the next spring and have been with them ever since. I've worked up from shovelling sand and gravel and yarding pipe through lots of other tasks to selling concrete masonry products, the position that I now hold with the company, now called Amcor, Inc.

I received a mission call in early summer, 1955, to the East Central States Mission, headquartered in Louisville, Ky. I had a great time there laboring as far south as North Mississippi and north to the Kentucky, West Virginia border, my knowledge of the gospel was greatly increased and I gained a testimony of the truthfulness of our church that means the world to me.

When we moved to North Ogden was the time that the lieel dutch girl Karen, came into my life. I've always said I've made some mistakes in my life but I certainly did not make one there. She has always been a great strength and inspiration to me. I think we really fell in love through letters during my term in the mission field.

Our union has brought a lot of things but most important are our eight children. They range in age from 19 to 3 and I can even name them all with their current ages: Stan, 19 now serving in Hong Kong on his mssion and has baptized five Chineese people after four months there. Jan, 18, attending Weber State College and working as a Secretary at D and B Repair. By the way, she was the first girl in the Stanley Fuller family in twenty-five years. Van, 17, a junior at Weber High School with high hopes to star in basketball in the next two years. Dean, 14, ninth grade at North Ogden Jr. High; he spent this summer at his Uncle Gaylin's working on the farm, he says that is his kind of living. Jill, 11, sixth grader involved in music, 4-H, and any kind of sports they will let girls in. Jon, 10, fifth grader, loves football and life. Aimee, 6, first grader, just discovering the magic of reading for real and the other exciting things that go with being six. Jodi, 3, the neighborhood helper, no matter what the task she is there to help. We are proud of them all and feel good about having a large family. They are all fine young people and they are a joy to us.

Our family has only moved into four different homes, all in the Ogden area. When first married we lived on Grant Ave. in Ogden in an apartment, then to an upstairs apartment in Riverdale. Then to our first home in North Ogden at 2666 North 400 E. Finally and where we have been the longest, we had our current home built at 2734 North 850 East North Ogden. We've been here sixteen years and really enjoy it. May we invite you over anytime.

I've served in various LDS Church positions: Elder's Quorum Presidency, Counselor to the Bishop for six and a half years. I've coached and reffed quite a bit too, enjoying the coaching not so much blowing the whistle. I've loved playing ball all my life and still play church ball at age forty three.

My grandparents both passed away during my mission. I loved them both and enjoyed being around them as a child. I remember Grandma's bread and jam and kindly ways. Grandpa used to come in with traps on old Sneak and I'd follow him around. I remember how it smelled in his shed where the furs and such were kept. I'm certain that they provided us with a noble heritage that I'm proud of and intend to uphold. Let's make it so we can all see each other at the great gathering up time.

Life History of Gaylin S. Fuller

I was born to L. Stanley and Sarah Jane Sant Fuller on Oct. 19, 1938, at Cedar City, Utah. My birth occurred at the tail end of the great Depression, and just as Hitler was building his forces for what eventually culminated in World War II. But perhaps more important, I was born during deer season. Such an occurrence can scarcely be forgiven of any Fuller woman, even in this day and age. We lived in Leeds, Utah.

A few of the memories I have of Leeds are as follows: My Father being the Bishop, living next to Grandpa and Grandma Fuller, (Donald), playing in the rocks back of our place while keeping a sharp lookout for the "Black Shadow", my mother being sick all the time, my having rheumatic fever and being carried to school in the first grade, the one room school with three boys and no girls in my grade, being baptized in the St. George Temple font for myself, not the dead. These are just a few samples, but must suffice due to space.

We moved from Leeds to Richmond, Utah, when I was eight years old. Richmond memories include: sleigh riding during the winter of the big snow, 1948, our dog "Dobee", taking cows to pasture, and playing in the big red barn.

We lived in several other towns where many fond memories could be recited, but I best not tell them all.

Educationally, I attended five different grade schools, two junior highs, and graduated from Weber High School in Ogden, Utah in 1956. I attended Weber College two years when it was a Jr. College, and received a B.S. degree from Utah State University in 1962. I attended Pratt Institute in New York, where I received a Master of Library Science Degree in 1965. I completed nearly all of the requirements for a P.H.D. at the University of Texas at Dallas. My education was cut off without completion by my decision to leave the ivory towers of the university life and buy a dairy farm here in Moreland, Idaho. Perhaps this has been the greatest education of all.

I have always tried to be active in the church. Some of the callings I have been privileged to have are as follows: Aaronic Priesthood presidencies, missionary in the Western Canadian Mission from 1958-1960; Sunday School President, Counselor in the Brooklyn Branch Presidency, Stake librarian in Rexburg Stake, Stake clerk of Ricks College Stake two years, Bishop of Salem Ward, Rexburg North Stake, 1968-73, Scoutmaster in Plano Ward, Dallas Texas North Stake, early morning Seminary teacher in Plano, Texas two years, and Young Men's MIA Pres. and Priests Quorum Advisor, which is my current assignment.

While serving a mission in Canada in 1959, I started writing to Edna Bingham. She was a student in my Mother's English class at West Side High School in Dayton, Idaho. We had never met then, but things worked out well. We were married in 1962 in the Logan LDS Temple, and we now have eight fine sons, with another one on the way.

It is an awful thing to ask a man who loves long gab fests and has recently backed into middle age (40), and therefore has much wisdom to impart, to condense his life into one or two pages. However, I wish not to bore the reader, and anyway, who would ever accept wisdom from a man who leaves a good job to milk 200 cows three times a day?

Come and see us sometime, for we are nearly always home.

Here's our family yell:

Who's that family that moves so slow?
Must be their family, nobody knows.
Who's that family that moves so fast?
It's the Fuller family, fighting to the last.

Who's that family with the little tiny feet?
Must be their family, they think it's neat.
Who's that family with the great big shoes?
It's the Fuller family, they've got the moves.

Who's that family that misses every shot?
Must be their family, they're not so hot.
Who's that family that runs up the score?
It's the Fuller family, more and more.

Here's some words to sing to "Grand Ole Flag".

We're the grand old Fullers, we're the high flying Fullers, and forever in kids may we stay. We're the emblem of the big feet we love, the home of the restaurant all day. Every heart beats true under the Fuller roof, where there's ever a roast or stew. But should old acquaintance be forgot, keep your eye on the Fuller crew.

F. Heber and Nancy Ann Hoopes Fuller and family Oct 1978

There were two events that took place during our youth which would later prove significant in preparing us for each other many years hence. On a wintery Sabbath evening in 1953 two young deacons counseled together as the missionary farewell drew to a close. An impression was made on two hearts, not so much by what was said but by what was felt. A covenant was made and at the appointed time the Lord would have two more missionaries. Testimonies would grow and temple marriages would be a firm commitment.

Just a few months earlier in a small town, Baker,in eastern Oregon, the spirit testified---another family was born again. The family's only daughter, though tender in years, slowly wound her spirit around the harmonious chords of the gospel. The greatest impression came through an MIA advisor and concerned the importance of temple marriage, that impression never dimmed through the anxious trail of six years of patient courtship and engagement to a non-member, picking up the piecesfor another engagement and yet again, each time the course was clear and she waited until the Lord's approval was given. That approval came during the summer and fall of 1971, when a missionary long since returned and humbled by an eight year quest for his sweetheart, felt the romatic tugs at his heartstrings coupled with confirmation and thus an eternal union was formed. Our parents and teachers prepared a fertile field for our reception of eternal principals and now it has become our turn.

Living in Salt Lake City, our first son, Ryan joined us is October of 1972. A year later, Steven was born and our youngest son,Russell joined us in just over two years more. The change has brought trauma, exileration, understanding and patience none of which has been complete. That is, we have yet much to learn even though sparks of progress light our way. The childern have been in competion with church jobs-Relief Society Presidency, 70's President, High Council and Bishopric, work for the legislature and more schooling for both of us but we are striving just the same.

We love our little family. We are inspired and amused at their faith and prayers. Little Russell always begins his prayer with "Bless Mommie taht she will get home safely," even though she is nearly always kneeling there beside him. Ryan is the tallest boy in kindergarten and usually the first one through with his assignments. Steven has the infectious smile and a tender heart that help make him a special boy. They ride their big wheels and make siren noises that pollutes the neighborhood and their gun battles have only beenexceeded by the great rubber gun battles of my childhood. Ithink I will make a rubber gun for them is a couple of years and see what happens.

I remeber Grandma and Grandpa Fuller very well. There was always homemade bread and jam available for my freguent visits. We lived next door in Leeds when I was six years old. I cracked almonds, english walnuts and black walnuts and ate pomegranates many times at their house. Grandpa got after me once for walking too close behind his horse Sneak. I did not understand the danger. My time was spent roaming the hills behind our place, especially playing in my rock car, hanging around Dad's sargum-making plant for a lick of the fresh sweet juice, and clicking a stick along the wires of the front fence to Grandma's house for a tasty welcome and that "kiss on the forehead" that seemed to be her trademark.

Neil moved to our highschool in Dayton, Idaho as a Sophomore when I was a Freshman. Later that year we started dating. We dated off and on through highschool and while at B.Y.U. before and after Neil's mission. Neil's mother was my Enghlish Teacher at West Side High. I used to observe and admire the way Neil would open the door of his car for his mother as they would come to school in the mornings and go home together after school. He would also take her arm to help her as they'd walk in the school together. This is quite a trait - in front of all his classmates. It didn't change his popularity at all; he was looked up to by all who knew him.

After we were married and attending B.Y.U., I worked at Albertson Supermarket in Provo to help put Neil through school. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1969. At this time our first son, Donald was two years old and our second son was born right soon after Neil graduated. While living in Provo, we lived in two apartments. After graduation we moved to Logan where Kendall lived with us and took turns driving to Ogden to work at Amcor everyday with Neil. About a week after Danny was born, we moved to Blanding where Neil had his first teaching experience. He also helped coach basketball during the five years at San Juan Highschool. We had many special friends while living in Blanding. Some of them are: Kline and Edna Black, Carl and Gerry Osborn, Jerry and Lynette Adams, Corry and Marilyn Jones, Jim and Trudy Shearer, Bishop and Reva Redd, Calvin and Verdonne Butt. These last two men are the men with whom Neil served in the Blanding 2nd ward Bishopric. Neil also served in the Bishopric while at B.Y.U. with Bishop Budge. I served in the M.I.A. Presidency, was Primary Choristor and Inservice Leader while living in Blanding. I did babysitting and sewing to help bring in money in our home while living there. Some of our special times each fall was when several of Neil's brothers and friends would come and stay with us during the deer season.

We had the constant desire to get closer to home where we could associate with our families and let our children become better acquainted with their grandparents. So in 1974 we moved to Blackfoot, Idaho where Neil taught one year at Blackfoot High. He also worked for his highschool buddy, Dennis Taylor on the farm whenever he could. I did lots of sewing for people and loved it! Neil was an excellent Adult Sunday School teacher in our ward and I served as Inservice Leader in the ward for a few months then was called to serve on the Primary Stake Board as Inservice Leader.

It wasn't long before a job at West Side High opened up in Social Studies. So we jumped at the chance to return 'home'. Neil was Ass't Football and Basketball Coach here where they have taken 'State' and won many honors. Neil has been a Stake Sports Specialist and Adult Sunday School Teacher and I have been Stake Inservice Leader, Releif Society Nursery Leader, and Cultural Refinement Leader. I still take in sewing, which is my beloved favorite pastime as I make most of our family's clothes.

A tradition in the Fuller Family from way back still lives in our family -- NICKNAMES! So compliments of Neil, we all have nicknames:
Donnie: Big Skip, Blackie, Tall One
Danny: Skip, Kressler, Boone
Marci: Chicken, Rose Bud, Cream Puff, Mossie
Curtis: Coddie, Baldhime, Mr. Codrik, Keddus, Cade
Melissa: Lissie, Too Bird, Kida-Kudie, Gissy
Colette: Lettie, Michilin, Kelly (tires)
Deonna: M.O.T.
Neil: Hulk, Skier

One of the favorite activities in our home is to get on the floor and play with Daddy. Our kids think it is great sport to see if all of them together can wrestle Neil. So far, Neil is still the winner. Neil made up another activity that still doesn't have a name. But it's where one of the smaller children go to the end of our large frontroom and all the rest of us line up at the other end and beg with out-stretched arms for the little one to come to just one of us. Then that one person gets the loves and hugs and is declared the winner. Then it is the next person's turn. One night we had gone through all the little kids and asked 7-year old Danny if he wanted a turn. He felt a bit too old to do such a thing, but thought it would be fun anyway. So we all lined up together waiting for him to run into our arms. He weaved back and forth in obvious confusion as to who to run to. Then he put his arms out as wide as he could and fell into as many arms as he could and hid his face in my lap and cried, "I just couldn't choose one of you - I love all of you."

Our children have such special memories of their grandparents, especially where they have lived ½ block away from us up until just recently when they moved to Dayton. We still see them real often and are still building memories. Some of these special times are: a game of checkers day or night with Grandpa, listening to jokes and stories with Grandma, learning to work while helping to plant gardens and cutting lawn, looking at Grandma's pretty flowers outside and beautiful trinkets in her lovely home, and helping themselves to Ritz Crackers in a bottom cupboard - oh yes, and Grandpa's wonderful popcorn on Sunday evenings!

Grandma and Grandpa have been such a good influence on us and our children and we are proud to carry this Fuller name.

KENDELL FULLER

My years growing up in the Fuller family bring back many fond memories of our family life and of different places we lived. We moved quite a few times during those years starting with the move from Leeds (where I was born--St. George, actually) to Richmond, Utah. From there to Crescent, just soth of Salt Lake, then to North Ogden and to another farm in North Ogden. From there we moved to Idaho in the town of Dayton and then back to Logan for a year, and finally to Clifton, Idaho where my parents lived when I finally left home.

Some of the things that I remember most about growing up include living on farms, making new friends, going to school, and the great association with my parents and brothers. I had five brothers to grow up with (Iwas number 5 of the six boys in our family). We had great fun playing ball, having rubber-gun fights, going hunting, hoeing weeds(that part wasn't so fun) milking cows, hauling hay, picking fruit, wrestling, fighting, going sleigh-riding, playing kick-the-can, feeding calves, playing Rook, sleeping out, throwing rocks, and pulling for our favorite base-ball teams. (Mine was the Yanks, and always will be) We were quite competitive as brothers growing up and sports have always played a big part of our lives.

The influence of my mom and dad, particularly in regards to the Church have played a big part of my life. Living the gospel, working hard, and staying close as a family have all been exemplified in my parent's lives. I'm sure that they got much of this from their own parents.

My memories of my Grandpa and Grandma Fuller are quite vague, especially because I was quite young when they passed away and they lived in southern Utah which was far away from where we lived so I saw very little of them. I remember them visiting us once when we lived in North Ogden and Grandma would give us a kiss on the cheek or forehead and say, "Grandma loves you boys".

I finished my high school days in Dayton at West Side High School. From there I attended Utah State for one year before leaving on a mission for the East Central States. I served in Kentucky, Tennessee, and West Virginia in two of what were some of the best years of my life. After my mission I returned home to attend Utah State and graduate with a Bachelors degree in Education with a teaching major in history and a minor in Geography. About this time the draft was starting to breathe down my neck (this was at the height of our armed force buildup in Vietnam) and I began frantically to search for a job as teaching deferrments were still being given. My brother, Gaylin, who lived in Rexburg at the time, was quite instrumental in getting me a job, teaching at Sugar-Salem High School in Sugar City, three miles north of Rexburg.

In my second year of teaching I was attending a Ricks College Ward for singles and this is where I met my wife, Diana Grover. I was serving as the Ward Teacher Development Director and I ask the Bishop if he would give me an assistant. Lo and behold my assistant turned out to be my futur wife. I felt it was my duty to get to know my assistant and work closely with her, which I was successful in doing. Diane was also attending the ward while she did her student teaching from BYU and was living at home with her family in Rexburg. After sort of a whirlwind courtship, (the two big moves to check her out was a trip to October Conference a week after we met, and a trip to Logan for a football game and a deer-hunt later that week) She passed the test(among others) and we were engaged in January to be married in June of 1972.

Our marriage in the Idaho Falls temple was a big event in our lives. It has helped to cement our marriage and give us common goals. Since we have had four children--Dustin, age 5, Holly, age $3\frac{1}{2}$, Angie, age$2\frac{1}{2}$, and Erin, age 1.

One of the greatest experiences we have had in our married life took place in June of 1976. On a sunny spring morning the Teton Dam collapsed and washed our new home and all of our belongings completely away. We just managed to get ourselves and our children, with a few of our clothes out in time. We had a little over an hour's warning but the "Flood" was much worse the anyone expected and thus very little was saved. My wife credits the Yanks with my being here. I was going to go up on the Teton River fishing that Saturday morning, but decided against it because the Yanks were on TV. Just as we were sitting down to watch the ball game a broadcast came over the air saying all those in the flood plain of the Teton should evacuate. We didn't think anything of it because we were high enough ground that we didn't think we were in the flood plain. We spent some time living with our relatives and finally were able to move into our "Hud" trailer, furnished by the government. Since then we have been able to rebuild a new home on our old site and have tried to start over again. We learned many things from the flood. We were so grateful for the help given to us by both family and friends and I think we learned what is really ofgreatest value to you among your possessions.

Since that time, life has returned to normal for us. I am still teaching school and enjoying my family and sports (particularly basketball) and living on the outskirts of Rexburg. My wife enjoys cooking, sewing, artwork, and I think she likes sports, too. Our children seem to be growing up fast and I guess they're becoming a lot like us.

STEVEN RAY FULLER

I am the tail-end of an unbroken chain of six boys born to Sadie and Stanley Fuller. By the time they got me--there being considerable delay between myself and my next brother Kendell (8 years). My mother was quite anxious that her last attempt be a girl. Her wishes were frustrated, however, as the doctor announced to her that she had given birth to a baby son. Through the anesthetic haze she pleaded, "Oh, doctor, can't you fix him." Her request was denied, for a boy I remained.

My preschool days were spent in North Ogden, Utah under the influence of rubber guns, huts in the hay stack, Taggart-place rodeos, and crowds of city kids who wanted to be on a farm. Although I was always "too little" to enjoy much of what my brothers did, I became hotly indignant when refused the privilege of trying.

After leaving the big city, we found ourselves in the village of Dayton on a farm. Chores and school became a new part of my daily life. Basketball "under the lights in our outdoor collesium," clod fights, and boat racing in the ditches helped interrupt the routine of our day.

After Dad's heart attack we made a brief one-year stop in Logan and then we settled in Clifton, Idaho, my mother's home town. By this time there were only the three of us left at home. Kenny was on a mission, and I was left to fend for myself without any strong-armed brotherly guidance. In Clifton, I began to grow up both physically and mentally and emotionally. With my good neighbor and friend, Lee Davis, we passed through the stages of maturity, perhaps not as quickly as our parents and teachers would have hoped. We were comrads-in-arms and in mischief both in and out of school. Between B-B gun fights in the raspberries and exploring the trap doors under the high school our efforts were to eliminate boredom and create a little excitement.

Since our acreage was small, Dad planted raspberries a cash-yielding, labor-intensive crop which not only provided us with income but kept his labor-avoiding son busy. With the advent of the first crop during hay season, however, I left the berries for the more lucrative but sweatier job of hauling hay. At the age of 13, I began to work for the neighboring farmers in the northern end of Cache Valley. Since help was scarce, continuous employment throughout the summer was always available and I have been grateful ever since for those opportunities. For two summers, while I was 16 and 17, the ex-Bishop of our ward asked me to run his farm while he went away to school. After that experience my respect for farming and farmers has never diminished.

All was not work, however, for sports have played a big role in my life. Football, basketball, and track were the main attractions in high school and the need to throw, kick, or shoot something has been with me. I have especially enjoyed playing Outlaw Ball with my brothers, and Turkey Ball during the Thanksgiving holidays with another family of boys. Although I have never achieved the great heights that my day-dreams did in athletics, the satisfaction of having played and competed has more than made up for the sprained ankles and sore muscles.

After graduating from West Side High in Dayton, Idaho, I went south to Big Blue Country, Utah State University. College was an eye-opening experience. Having lived in a somewhat isolated Mormon community for the first eighteen years of my life, it came as quite a shock to be challenged by the current philosophies of the day. In the midst of my confusion, I went to a fireside at USU which featured President Harold B. Lee as the speaker. He told us as young people to seek for testimonies of the gospel, but if ours was not strong enough at the moment then we could lean on his until we could get one of own. I took him up on his generous offer and leaned upon him and the members of my family until a very significant event allowed me to obtain my own knowledge of the truth.

In June, 1972, I received an envelope from Salt Lake containing a call to the Argentine East Mission. The subsequent two years in the far-off land tested and tried me. I don't think I could have grown so much so fast in any other way. I returned from my mission with established goals and aspirations which have acted as guidelines for the future.

One of those goals, besides obtaining an education, was to marry a select girl in the temple. A few years, a thousand hamburgers, movies, and walks later I found the girl who fit all that I needed and we were married in the Manti Temple on March 11, 1977. Myrna Green was her name and she hailed from Ephraim, Utah in the rugged turkey country of Sanpete County. Our first Christmas was very special to us as we brought home a baby boy from the hospital two days before the holiday. We named him Matthew Steven, and with all the Fuller brothers and Green brothers and dads we had twelve brethren help give him that name.

We are currently living in Logan where I am going to school trying to finish a Master's Degree in History. While going to school I drive seven hours a day to get Special Ed children to and from their schools.

Helen S. Pope

Two big hearts full of opportunities for others.

When Reed was of high school age he took a group of students back and forth to school in his car. He did not get much high school as there was no school bus. He would have been a good student had he had the chance to have been one. He did real well in business. As a young man he was Sunday School Superintendent in the ward. We lived at Aunt Orpha's. I remember when he had his hired man bring a truckload of watermelons for a Sunday School watermelon bust. He had raised them up on his farm in Washington fields. He had raised them for just that purpose. The bust was held in the St. George P ark. There was a short program and there was a fine turnout. Reed died March 17, 1974 of cancer of the prostrate. He suffered a terribly long and painful death. He was a good father and husband and took his responsibilities seriously. We lived in many houses. He would fix up the farm and I would fix up the house and we would sell at a good profit and buy a more expensive one the next time. When we had our first daughter-in-law I told her I would try to be a good mother-in-law but I had fixed up 16 houses and I still didn' t know where I was going to have a permanent home; that I was tired. Reed said to me afterwards that he had overheard our conversation and he counted it up and I had fixed 18 houses, not 16 as I had said. We were living at 6521 South 23rd East at the time, on 30 acres of land and the home we lived in and the apartments I made are all rented out now. I thought they would be torn down by know. It is a mass of beautiful new homes all over now. There are still a few of the fruit trees we planted. While Reed was dying he gave money to those of his children to whom he had not already given money or property. He was able to accept the fact that he might not live much longer. He got his affairs in good shape and finished a subdivision which he and two other farmers had been working on for five years. It is a light industrial subdivision. Our son Anthony said that no one but Reed Fuller could have done it. It made him feel fulfilled to do it and it gave him money for his final illness which was very costly. He had just turned 70. When I look back and think about his low hydrochloric acid, it is a wonder we could keep him that long.

WILLIAM IVIE FAMILY

Bill was born in Roosevelt, Utah, while his parents were living in Tabiona. He was named after both of his grandfathers - William after his father's father, and Thomas after his mother's father. His parents moved to Kearns when he was small, and to Granger when he was 10 years old. They have lived there since. When Bill completed High School, he was given a Football and Track scholarship at Dixie College. He attended for one year prior to his mission. In March of 1971 he entered the Mission Home and arrived in the England Central Mission on April 1, 1971. He served for two years and had many growing experiences there. Bill has two older brothers and one older sister, and also a younger brother and sister.

Susan was born in Salt Lake City, Utah to Enid and Dan Faust. She had an older brother Dan, a younger brother Keith, and another brother George David who died at five moths. Susan lived in Utah, California, Kansas, and Washington states while in school. After High School, she attended Ricks College, where she obtained an Associate Degree, and one semester at BYU. She lived in Granger and worked in the Historical Department of the Church when she met Bill in the Granger Central Stake Young Adults.

Bill was the Stake Young Adult President and Susan was a Ward Representative when they met. They became engaged November 22, 1973 on Thanksgiving Day and were married February 14, 1974 in the Salt Lake Temple. It was a double wedding with Susan's brother Dan Faust and his wife Christy Williams.

In May of 1974 Bill started in the Insurance Business with Prudential. On November 1, 1974 Bonnie Jean was born to them. Two years later, William Ervin was born, September 23, 1976. Their third child was born March 27, 1978.

The Ivie's have a home in Granger, Utah. Bill is presently serving as the First Counselor in the Bishopric in their ward, and Susan is the Relief Society Secretary.

History of Anthony (Tony) Pope Fuller

Born in St. George, Utah, I spent my first four years in the small town of Leeds, Utah. We moved north to Salt Lake where we lived in the Holiday area. We had a farm and orchard. I started school there, rode horses, and had many friends. When I was 11 years old we moved to Fillmore, Utah. I was active in FFA and was the president my senior year. I graduated from Millard High School in 1960. My parents had moved to Salt Lake and I lived with the Orin Allen family my senior year.

I attened the University of Utah for 1 year prior to serving an LDS mission in the Eastern States (New York City area) 1961-63, where I participated in the Hill Cumorah Pageant.

I met my wife, Diana Dean, upon returning home, and we were married the next April in the Salt Lake Temple. Our first child, Delinda was born while I was still attending the U of U. Upon graduating in June of 1966, with a BA in Physics, I took employment with Eastman Kodak Company in Rochester, New York. We Lived in a very active ward and had many opportunities to serve. I worked on the church farm which is by the Hill Cumorah. We also helped with the pageant. Lecinda was born in Rochester.

We left Rochester and returned to Salt Lake in January 1968. We bought a home in Hunter, a suburb,of Salt Lake. I worked for Ireco Chemicals and Explosives, a research and manfacturing firm in West Jordan, 1968-69. Cindy Sky, an indian placement student, came to live with us. She was nine years old. She lived with us nine years. She graduated from Millard High in 1978. We miss having her live with us. Michele was born two weeks after we got Cindy.

We Moved back to Fillmore (Flowell) in early 1970 and leased a farm for 2 years, then bought a farm and home, where we have resided from 1972 to the present. (1978) By now we have been in our home in Flowell much longer than we have ever stayed in one place before, and have no desire to move again. Our fourth child, a BOY, whom we named Matthew Reed, was born in 1972. Since Matthew came along the same time as we started on our farm, the progress of each is charted together. There was a lot of clean-up to do, and much improvement to get the farm in shape. Over the years this has been mostly accomplished, but of course this is a never ending task. We raise alfalfa hay, grain, and corn for silage.

Melanie, our fifth child and fourth girl was born in 1975. We were thrilled by the arrival of our second boy on Oct. 3, 1978. We have selected the name Spencer Lyndon for him, after the president of the church and Diana's father.

I have been active in the Young Farmers organization, and Diana has been active in Young Homemakers. She was a candidate for Young Homemaker of the year. I have been working in the local and state Farm Bureau organizations, 2 years as county Secretary, and am presetn presently Vice-president. We have been involved in local civic activities, such as PTA. I am in my second year as president. We have served actively in church responsibilites over the years. Diana has been Jr. Sunday School Coordinator, teacher in Primary, Sunday School, and Relief Society, and counselor in Primary for several years. I served as Ward Clerk for six years, Seventies quorum group leader twice and President three different times, and also Secretary. Iwas a Stake Missionary for two years.

Don and I first fell in love when I was 14, and he was 17, but it was years before we were married. I am happy to report that we are still in love.

Don has distinguished himself in the field of racing, particularly on motorcycles. He currently is number one in Utah for desert racing, which he does in conjunction with running a Yamaha Cycle and Snowmobile business. He provides very well for his family thru that, and a diesel repair business. I do the books and work in the shop, when I have time from our family of four active, healthy children. We are now living in Fillmore, my home town, after spending years in Salt Lake. We have been here for five years, live in a red brick home on main street which is 104 years old. We have chickens, goats, cats, and a dog, all of which we enjoy and enjoy the eggs and milk, and fried chicken. We raise fruit, vegetables, and flowers, and are committed to a healthy natural diet. We hope any relatives going thru Fillmore will look us up, and let us offer our hospitality.

Just a footnote, we expect to have another name for the Fuller Family roster some time in March, which will give us enough kids to fill up our lives.

MY HISTORY

By Phoebe Fuller Bluemel

I was born in Leeds, Utah, February 1, 1907. I lived there in our home with my parents and eight brothers and sisters and my cousin Roy Barlow who lived in our home for several years. I went to grade school in Leeds, then I went to two years of high school in St. George. I worked in a cafe after school to help pay my expenses.

I thought I wanted to be a beauty operator, so I figured a way out for me to go, by borrowing some money and with help from my parents I went to Salt Lake and took a four months course in Beauty Culture. However I found I cound't become a Beauty Operator in that short length of time. It takes months of experience, so I went back to St. George to my work in the cafe. I had a boy friend that seemed to care for me at that time. He was waiting for me when I got off the bus from Salt Lake. He wanted to marry me so this was what I did. His name was William Sherwood Coleman. We were married at Parawan, Utah, on March 7, 1928. We lived in St. George and Washington also in Leeds, until after our first baby came. Our son William Sherwood Coleman, Jr. was born December 21, 1928, at my parents' home in Leeds. We had no home and had to stay at my parents' home. There was a depression at that time and there wasn't much work to be found so Bill and my brother Clint went trapping wild animals out on the Arizona strip. It was a cold winter and they camped out. I don't know how they survived. In the spring Bill went to California and found work. He was a mechanic so he got a job with a trucking company. He came in May and got our baby and me and took us to California. We were there for eight months. I had never been out of the state of Utah before. But in the winter the work slowed down and we came back to Utah. We lived in Leeds for several years. My baby girl Dolores was born August 1, 1932, while we were in Leeds. Bill found work driving truck at Lander, Wyoming for several months then came home and later worked at the Grand Canyon driving truck. Later on we went to Arizona and stayed there at McNary and St. Johns for two and a half years. Bill's folks lived there so I became acquainted with some of them. We came back home to Leeds and Bill went off to find work. He worked on a road construction job in Nevada and California. Bill came and moved the kids and me to California. We lived there for awhile and in several places in Nevada. The kids and I were often alone. Bill was finding ways to be gone a lot of the time. He moved the kids and me back to Leeds when his company sent him to Ukiah, California. He was finding a new life with other women and he wrote me from California that he didn't need a wife and kids. I thought it best for him to be free so I got a divorce. When my decree became final and when school was out I packed my kids and all our belongings and we went to Salt Lake in our old green Plymouth car and trailer. We stayed at Eldon and Mary's place while they took a vacation back East, (to care for their children). Then Eldon helped me find an apartment to rent. I was 34 years old at this time and I felt I was still young enough to make a new life for myself and my kids. I went to a dance at the Coconut Grove and I met a man that I thought was very nice. He seemed to enjoy dancing with me. He told me his name was John Bluemel, that he had four children and his wife had passed away four years before. Of course I told him about myself. We started dating and later on he asked me to marry him. We decided to marry before school started so we could put our children in the same school. We drove to Preston, Idaho on August 30, 1941, and got married, then went to Randolph, Evanston and Lyman to visit John's relatives and to bring back two of his kids, Merlin and Vernon, that were there. We lived in John's apartment until we could buy a home in Salt Lake. John's son Jay also lived with us; but Ivan stayed in Lyman. John worked with his borther at the Salt Lake Transfer.

Later we sold the farm and moved to American Fork then left there and moved to Uinta Basin on a farm near Roosevelt, Utah. We stayed out there for several years. Then we moved to Lyman and soon we got a chance to buy a ranch at Granger, Wyoming. We moved there in November, 1947. All our children were with us until then. Merlin and Clinton got married in Lyman. Dolores and Vernon stayed in Lyman most of the time until they married. Sherwood, Jay and Gary went with us. We sure needed their help on the ranch. It was a hard life for me. I had to work hard to care for my family and helped all I could with the ranch work. We planted lawns and trees and flowers to make our home look nice. John had much work in the fields to make the place produce.

Our son Kurtiss was born two years after we moved to the ranch on June 29, 1949. We didn't have electricity for the first two years. I had several operations in the first few years, like a ruptured appendix, a hysterectomy, my teeth out and other troubles. John had his teeth out and he had Tularermia. We were there for 25 years, then we sold the ranch to J. R. Broadbent. We moved to Lyman where we bought a home. We had four sons in the service of our country, Sherwood was the first to be called. Then Jay joined the Army and stayed in for 20 years. Gary was drafted and was in the army for two years. Then Kurtiss joined the Navy for four years of service. He was in the War Zone of Viet Nam on a destroyer ship part of the time. All of this was a big worry and heartache to us.

I was asked to be Justice of the Peace in Granger. I accepted the work as we needed the money. So I was appointed to take Slim Jackman's place when he moved to Riverton, Wyoming, November 1958. Then I was elected Judge of the Granger Precinct in November, 1958. I worked at this job until January 1961.

The home we moved to in Lyman was an old house. We worked real hard to repair it and make it as nice as we could. Our boys helped us. We could never have done it all alone. Gary and Sherwood and Vernon were the boys that helped us the most. We have been here in Lyman for ten years and we are now in our seventies.

Our children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren are all near us. They are good to us and we love all of them very much. Our daughter Dolores passed away leaving us all heartsick. She left a husband, Reed Bluemel, and seven children. Her youngest only four years old. He is married again now to a wonderful girl, Barbara, who was a widow with eight children. They get along fine.

There are others close to me that have passed away; my parents, my sister, Maida, and my brother Reed. We are not young any more. All of us, my brothers and sisters, but we've lived a pretty good life, going to church, and doing good for our families. I have made many mistakes in my lifetime I'm sorry for the mistakes and wish I could have done better but I have always worked hard and tried to do my duty. I've always taken care of my family and tried to teach them to do right. I've cared very much for all of them and also my parents and brothers and sisters. I'm taking care of my husband, John now who has poor health. We are not ready to die yet, but our time on this earth is growing shorter. So we must be ready to go.

Industrious, enterprising, a real knack for success.

ELDON KEITH FULLER and MARY ELIZABETH CARLISLE

I am the 7th child of Donald Elijah and LaVinia Angell Fuller. Mary is the 7th child of Joseph Alma Carlisle and Mary Elizabeth Carn. Mary and I met at a dance in Salt Lake City, where I had traveled while pedaling fruit from Leeds. We were married on September 25, 1933. We are the parents of 5 children: Eldon Keith Jr., Mary Loueen, Terry Dennis, Karen RaeNae, and Shauna Jean.

The stock market crashed in 1929, and so we were in the real depression at the time of our marriage. Our first home was a 8 by 14 ft. trailer house which I built out of an old Pontiac car chassy. It was one room. We took Mary's savings of $14 and purchased a sheep-camp stove. The rest of the furniture we built. We lived on about $4 a day or $30 to $35 a week.

Work was hard to find, yet no one need go hungry if they were willing to work. However, because money was scarce, many people in our town of Leeds could not pay their power bills, so the power company came and cut one wire; they would not unhook it completely. Many people hooked it back up themselves. Others learned how to take a wire and fix it so it did not register on the meter. People did all kinds of things to get power in their homes because we had come to depend on it. The power company was not too fussy about clamping down on people, because they understood that people just did not have the money.

During the first few years of our marriage, we lived in Leeds, then Rockville, then Yellowstone Park, then to Ogden, and then back to Leeds. In 1937 we moved to Salt Lake City, where we stayed.

World War II was a great shock to America. England was fighting Germany before we were, and we were helping England by furnishing ammunition. We knew we were headed for it. When the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, our whole fleet was sunk. That was it. I remember Pres. Roosevelt's striking speech over the radio when he declared war. I remember that day like it was yesterday. As we followed the news of the war, it got to the point where it looked like I might be called to go. We had 3 children. I received a deferral of 6 months by going to work in the Remington Arms Plant in Salt Lake City making bullets for the war. My sister, Verna, worked in a similar plant. I remember many times at work when someone would burst into tears when word was received that a loved one was killed or wounded. It was happening every day. It was really a sad time. However, everyone had confidence that we would win the war. Then I did receive orders to go get my physical examination in preparation for the next draft. Before I was ordered to duty, our national leaders declared an armistice, and it was over.

While working at Remington Arms plant on the night shift, I bought a little 1940 Ford tractor and would go out and plow gardens for people in the daytime. I got to making pretty good money doing that. I bought a 1941 truck and hired myself out to hauling. After the war was over, things started to move, and houses were being built. I dug basements for them, the hard way, with my tractor. I saved a few hundred dollars and finally found a war-colored front end loader catipillar tractor. I put my money down and got the bank to finance the rest, and I dug basements with it. That's how I got started in the excavating business. At first my wife kept the books, but soon I hired a part-time bookkeeper. As the company grew, I acquired business property and built an office on it. I sold this property and moved my business to another location two more times. My business grew to the point where I had 14-16 men on the payroll. At one time the gross worth of my business was about one million dollars. It was not inflation times like now. If I did a $200,000.00 year, that was a real top year. I had 6 or 7 trucks, 3 catipillars, 2 backhoes, and smaller excavating tools at the heighth of my business. I started with my tractor in 1942 and was in the business for 34 years. I started retiring in 1970 and got completely out in 1976.

As a family, we have had some special times together. We took vacations to Yellowstone Park several times and camped in a tent. We often took a picnic lunch to Liberty Park where we spent a few Sunday hours pleasantly. When the children were older, we bought a trailer house for traveling and also a boat. We had lots of fun memories on our boating trips to nearby reservoirs. Our children learned how to water-ski, and Mary and I enjoyed fishing.

I once traveled down the Colorado River by rubber raft with two of my children, Loueen and Terry. Loueen's seminary teacher organized our expedition, and Mary encouraged me to go along. We really had a good time. We lived on the river by day and slept on the banks at night for one week. This was before Glen Canyon Dam was built.

Mary and I were sealed in the Salt Lake temple on May 20, 1964. Through the years, Mary has taught in Mutual for 2 years and in Primary for 3 years. She also worked in the Sunday School library. I have always felt that there is a God, and I always felt that the Mormon faith was the best one around. I feel a loyalty to my pioneer grandparents and to what they believed in. My mother taught her children about the Gospel and instilled within us a deep sense of right and wrong.

FAMILY GROUP RECORD

MARY LOUEEN FULLER and MARC WRIGHT ANDERSON

I am the 2nd child born to Eldon Keith Fuller and Mary E. Carlisle. Marc is the 2nd child born to Lawrence Wright Anderson and Esther Ivie. Marc and I were highly recommended to each other by our mutual friends. We met on a blind date and went bowling. We liked each other right away. Previous to this occasion, I had served a full-time mission to Sweden and was working in the Church Office building as secretary to Elder Gordon Hinckley. When I met Marc, he was singing in the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, was a convert to the Church, and had already received his temple endowments earlier that year.

We were married in the Manti Temple on May 10, 1963. We first lived in Bountiful, Utah for 5 years. We loved it there. Three of our children were born there. While there we enjoyed various church positions. I taught in Primary and in Mutual. Marc served as counselor in MIA and then as co-ordinator of the "Marrieds' firesides". Marc was often called upon to sing solos in church functions.

Marc quit working for the Tribune and started working for the local Post office. Then he determined to leave the rain and snow for good, and in a few months he obtained a job in Blythe, California as border inspector. So we moved our family and St. Bernard dog to Blythe. Marc soon changed jobs to Western Auto, then to the local hospital as an Assistant physical therapist, and then to Kaiser Steel, where he has now been for 7 years. Four more children have been born in Blythe, and we are presently expecting our 8th in December (1978). We have 5 sons and 2 daughters: William Keith, James Lawrence, Susan, Phillip, Paul Matthew, David Marc, and Mary Beth.

Life is good to us. We enjoy living in the mission field. We live 10 miles from church and travel the road quite a bit. Ward members have given assistance at the time of the birth of each child and also during a length illness of mine when I was pregnant with Paul. Here I have served as a teacher in Mutual, in Primary, and as Inservice leader in Primary. Recently I was released as Primary President and given 2 new callings teaching in Relief Society and Primary. Marc has taught Sunday School, fulfilled a two-year stake mission, and presently works with the full-time missionaries as a Seventy. We usually visit nearby temples about 2 or 3 times a year. Distance is a problem.

As a family, we hold weekly home evenings. Marc teaches the lesson and the rest of us take part with prayers, conducting, or music. Sometimes it is a real struggle to get everyone moving in the same direction. Special experiences include trips to Disneyland, Magic Mountain, Lion Country, and Marineland. Also the beaches. We have been to see the giant redwood trees here in California. Equally enjoyed are our trips to Utah where we have stayed in Marc's friend's cabin in Brighton, Utah. Nearer to home we cool off in the back-waters of the Colorado River when the temperature reaches 120°. We also enjoy some nearby sand dunes. Each of our children have become good swimmers through summer lessons. Bill and Jim both play musical band instruments and are paper boys. They are also bearers of the Priesthood and Boy Scouts. Bill is very near to becoming an Eagle Scout and Jim is almost a Life Scout. Susan plays piano.

We have had a few years at raising farm animals: chickens, a pig, rabbits, a turkey, goats, and cats and dogs. Presently we are fresh out of farm animals.

Financially we have struggled and struggled to make ends meet. I have always said that if we had waited until we could afford our children before we had them, then we surely would have missed out. Through faith, and a firm belief in paying our tithing, we have gotten through hard periods. Sometimes Marc was temporarily out of work, and we have sold many items to get much needed cash. Our children are our treasures. We love them each deeply. We cry with them, struggle with them, and laugh with them. Can life be any greater than this? At present, we are blessed to own our home and have just completed adding on more rooms to allow space for our growing family.

Our life is full. There is lots to do with 7 children. There are many daily happenings which keep us going. In the world today, there is much sorrow and deceit caused by Satan's philosophies. Drugs, immorality, abortion and divorce are everywhere present. It is a challenging time to be raising a family. The Gospel of Jesus Christ is our only hope.

Our children have been blessed and protected thus far. When Bill was 12 he was in a serious car accident as a passenger and he came close to losing one ear. Jim crashed on his bike and did severe damage to his teeth but his face was preserved. When Susan was a baby, she was diagnosed as being born with nerve deafness, yet through our prayers and some physical change in her, her hearing developed fully by the age of 6 months. More than once a crawling baby has fallen into a tub full of water and was quickly fished out by family members.

When Mary Beth was born, we brought her home to the chicken pox, and very shortly all seven children were broken out with chicken pox, including her. That was how we spent Christmas 1976.

TERRY DENNIS FULLER - BORN Sept 18, 1940 in SALT LAKE CITY UT. TO ELDON KEITH & Mary FULLER. OUR Family is made up of 5 CHILDREN, 1ST SON ELDON KEITH JR. 2ND CHILD Mary LOVEEN, 3RD CHILD TERRY DENNIS FULLER 4th Child KAREN RANAE, 5th CHILD Shawna GENE. I was RAISED on a 4 ACRE ORCHARD. I spent MOST of my SUMMERS CAMPING & SLEEPING in the Orchard.

Dad had a tractor he used to plow up the Field. I Remember I wanted to drive that Tractor so bad, at the age of 12 I got my chance, ONLY to drive OVER a TREE STUMP & get the tractor high center. I expected all kinds of heck from Dad, But all he said was, "I hope you've learned something."

When I was 15, LOVEEN talked Dad into taking us on a RIVER TRIP down the Colorado River before the dam was built. Dad didn't want to go but with the help of MOTHER, Dad decided to take us. We Rode in an open 2 ton CATTLE TRUCK, Dad's hayfever was bad, he hated that trip by the minute. But when we finally Reached the RIVER & spending time by the RIVER he changed his mind and OUR TRIP was an EXPERIENCE we'll NEVER forget.

I was one of the typically teenager's, dragging State Street in my HOT Rod CARS. Keeping in style with SUPER paint jobs - CAR LOWERED to the ground - with baby MOON Hubcaps. Then as the Styles changed we RAISED the back end of the car - but left the front low to the ground. Putting BIG tires on the back.

IN March 1973 I met Linda PATTS in a night club in Salt Lake City. We dated quite Regularly for about 3 or 4 months. LINDA was BORN JUNE 9 1949 in Salt Lake City. She was RAISED in ROSE PARK. When I met LINDA She was working 13 hours a day 6 day's a week. She was RAISING a SON, his name is Deam. He was 6 years old.

On July 2 1973 we was married in las Vegas, Nevada. We went to Blyth & visited Mark & LOVEEN. Then we went over to lake Havesu & spent 3 day's When we RETURNED to Salt lake, we lived in my MOBILE HOME until about August. We moved to an apartment on 245 E 5900 So. During this time I had an operation. So for my Recovery time we went and spent 2 months on the Island of Oahu - Hawaii. This was the winter months here in Salt Lake. We Really enjoyed the Summer weather. in December & January. We lived in a High Rise Apartment, on the 14th Floor. We could see the Ocean & the big ships coming in & out of the Harbor. We bought an old car and we drove all around the Island. At the end of January we boarded our plane & back to Salt lake we came.

We moved to the Bennion area for about 2 months, The winter weather got to us so off we moved to St. George. We lived there for about 2 months & hadn't even Meet any of our neighbors. Linda Suggested we go to church, this is where we would get acquainted. I told her to go ahead but she Refused to go without me. 2 weeks later we started our up ward climb to become active in the church.

On November 8 1974 our baby Daughter. Laura Loreen was sent to us from Heaven - She is a little Angel. In January we moved back to Salt Lake. We took up Residence in Sandy. During this time we attended the Project Temple Class. And on Sept 12 1975 Linda & I Dean and Laura went to the provo Temple & was sealed for time & Eternity. What a thrilling experience for all of us. Seeing our children brought in to us all in White looking like the Angels they are. It still brings tears to my eyes when I think about this Special Time in all our lives.

We lived in Sandy until Oct of 1976 when we decided to go back again to St George.

On December 4, 1976 our 2nd daughter Charo Shanell come to us. The love each one of these children bring is a love & joy more Rewarding than words can tell.

In July we moved again back to Salt Lake. We are now living in West Jordan. Were active in the 18th Ward Dixie Valley Church house. We have some great friends & teachers there. At this time Linda is holding the position of 2nd Counc. in the Primary. In February were expecting our 4th Child. What a joy each one of these spirits bring to the joy of this family.

FAMILY HISTORY

I was born the youngest of nine children, on Aug. 28, 1920. My brother Oral was next to me in age, and he was 8 years old when I was born. My brother Eldon was 10 and my two sisters, Maida and Phoebe were nearly 12 and 14. Verna, my oldest sister was married and had two children, and my other three brothers, Reed, Stanley and Clint were 16, 19, and 21. My brothers and sisters must have been pretty happy to have a baby sister, as they were always very loving with me. Later on Oral decided I was a spoiled little brat because he used to tell me I ought to have a good hard spanking every day of my life!

When I was very small we didn't have the electricity yet, and I remember that it was my job to clean the lamp chimneys because my hands were small enough to reach up inside them. I also remember Mama washing clothes on the scrubbing board out in the grape arbor. She would heat the water for the wash, in an old tin tub outside and carry it to the place where she was washing. I think my big brothers would always help her. I also remember the heavy flatirons that she used to heat on the stove to do the ironing with. I think I was about 6 or 7 when we finally got the electricity in our house and 11 or 12 when we got our first refrigerator. This was a wonderful blessing, to finally have a place to keep the milk and other food cold.

When I was six years old part of our family moved to St. George for the winter, so that Phoebe, Maida and Eldon could go to High School. Since I was 6 years old that year, I of course, started my first year of school in St. George. It was rather frightening for a little country girl to be starting school in the big city, cut I soon got used to it, and was happy there. In the spring before school was out, we moved back to Leeds and I finished the school year there. The school in Leeds had two rooms, the Big Room and the Little Room. There were four grades in each room. When you went from the Little Room to the Big you really felt grown up! When you got out of the 8th grade, you either went away to school or your education stopped. When I graduated from the 8th grade, someone in Leeds got up a petition to get a school bus to come to Leeds and pick up the young people and take them to St. George to High School. Even though there was only 3 of us in the 8th grade that year, there were quite a few older kids that had graduated from grammer school and were not going to High School because their parents couldn't afford to send them away to school. This was in 1934, and the depression was going strong. The school board, or the Supt. of school decided that we should be able to go to High School, and they got us a school bus. It wasn't much of a bus, half of the windows were out and the heater didn't work, and it was always breaking down, but it got us started and the next year we had a brand new bus. Our bus would stop in Washington and pick up the kids there and in Middleton. All the kids that rode the school busses ate lunch together in the lunch room at school, so we soon got acquainted with the kids from Ivins and Santa Clara as well as the Wash. kids. Two girls from Ivins became my special friends, and we chummed together all through High School.

There were four girls in Leeds close to my age, and we palled together from the first grade through High School. We spent most of our spare time together from the time we were in the first grade. We palled around with the boys our age too. When we were young we would play hide and go seek and run sheep run with the boys, when we got a little older we would have dances and parties. All of our dances were held at the Church House and many of our parties and get-togethers were held at my house. I was the only one in the crowd that didn't have a flock of little brothers and sisters to hang around and pester us, so the gang used to like to come to our place. My parents always made my friends welcome in their home, and my big brothers used to like to tease my girl friends. And I think my girl friends enjoyed beingteased by my brothers.

The Church has always been a big part of my life. I always attended

FAMILY HISTORY

Sunday School and Sacrament meeting with my parents when I was small and with my friends when I was older. Of course I started Primary when I was very small, and attended faithfully until I was old enough to graduate. Of course I went to Mutual from the time I was 12 until I left home. Mutual was a big part of our social life. When I was about 15 or 16 I became a Primary teacher and I was also Secretary of the Sunday School for several years. I was also the Treasurer and I had to keep track of the Sunday School money. They didn't have an awful lot and I kept it in a s ugar bowl!

I had a little experience in handling my own money in my teen years. Although we didn't have much money, I always picked cherries for my Dad when the cherries were on, and at times I picked or packed peaches for one of my brothers. I used the money that I earned to buy clothes with. The cherry money went for a new 4th of July outfit and the peach money went for school clothes.

In 1938 I graduated from High School and came to Salt Lake the first part of September to go to business school. I lived with Eldon and Mary the first nine months then I went home for a month's visit, when I came back I went to work for some people doing housework. For this I received my board and room and a little spending money. During the time I was going to school the school would find typing jobs for me at different places. I would work for a few hour's several days a week or on a Saturda y. In this way, I earned a little money and was getting good experience. Then I quit going to business college, and worked part time for my sister-in-law's brother, Ted Pope, at his Architect office. After a few month's I got a call to go to work at an insurance company called the U.S.F.&G. I worked here for a year before I was married and another year afterwards.

On Sept. 18, 1941 I married Jesse Norman Hogge. We found us a little basement apartment just around the corner from the apartment house where I had lived with several girl friends for a couple of years. Almost a year later I quit work to stay home and await the birth of my first child. I was expecting the baby the end of January. But on the 12th of Dec. she decided she was ready to make her appearance, so she came to join us about six weeks early. We were really thrilled with our little girl. I thought it was so much fun to be a mother, that I decided I wanted a dozen children. Later on I decided five was enough. But I really enjoyed my babies very much, and I have always been grateful that I didn't feel it necessary to go to work. We were quite poor all our married life but we never wanted for any of the necessities of life, and when we were able to have luxuries, we appreciated them even more.

When Laurie was about a year old Norm decided to go to the State of Wash. to work on a defense project. (War had been declared shortly after we were married, when the Japanese had bombed Pearl Harbor on the 7th of Dec. 1941) So he left for Wash. and my brother Stanly came to Salt Lake and got me and my belongings and took us to Leeds to stay with my folks. Laurie turned one year shortly after we got there and we stayed until she was about 15 months. I guess she was quite a little mischief and Grandma was probably pretty relieved when we left.

A few months after I came back to Salt Lake to join my husband, who had come back from Washington, we found us a little home in South Salt Lake, that we could afford to buy, and we moved there on the 1st of August, 1944. A month later our baby boy was born. He also came early by about 7 weeks. He weighed about 4 1/2 lbs. and had to be in an incubator for several days. But when we got him home he started to gain weight, and soon over came his bad start, and has turned out to be a pretty big fellow. Our daughter Deena came along 1 1/2 years later and Janet three years after that.

When Laure was ten and Janet two, we decided to go to Greenriver, Wyo. so that Norm could go into the plumbing business. We lived in Greenriver for a year, and the plumbing business didn't work ou t too well,and we really hated living in Greenriver, so Norm joined the Pipefitters Union and got a job at the Trona plant they were building about halfway between Greenriver and Lyman. We moved over to Granger to be near where my sister Phoebe and her family lived. When this job was over we decided to mov e back to Salt Lake. We had rented our home while we were away, so we had it to come back to. We were really happy to be back in Salt Lake, and our children soon picked up where they had left off, in the neighborhood and a t school, etc.

I had worked in the Primary while we were in Wyo. and a year or two after we got back to Salt Lake, I was asked to work in the Primary in Grant First Ward. This got me started being active in Church again and I have held one or more positions from that time on.

Our youngest son Kim was born 6 months after we got back to Salt Lake. We were so thrilled over this little baby boy. The children were all old enough to really enjoy a baby in the house and we all just adored him.

A year or two after we got back to Salt Lake Norm had to go out of town to work. He would always come home weekends, but he would have to spend a great deal of his time during the next 25 years away from home. In spite of this he did a major remodeling job on our little house, adding three new bedrooms a new bath, a new kitchen, a utility room, and turning the old kitchen into a family room. The children and I helped as much as we could, as we did with everything that went on around the place.

Every summer we had a big garden and I harvested and canned hundreds of bottles of fruit and vegetables and made pickles and jam and jelly.

My husband was always a hard worker and didn't really enjoy going on trips or vacations, so we didn't go very much, just a few trips to Zion or Bryce Canyon and once to Yellowstone Park. When the children were small and my parents were alive, I would take the children and go down to Leeds to visit almost every summer. Maida and Bert would usually bring the folks up every summer so that they could visit with those of us living up here.

On the 27th of November, 1963 Norm and I were sealed to each other and to our children in the Salt Lake Temple. This was the most thrilling and joyful event of our lives. Two years after this in the fall of 1965 I was called to be a counselor in the Relief Society Presidency. Two years later I was called to be President and I served in this position for five years and 3 months, being released on Nov.5 1972.

In 1965 our son Kenny went in the Navy. While he was gone Deena was married. When he got released from the Navy, Deena was living at home waiting the birth of her first baby while her husband was in the service. The baby was born the end of January and she left to go to New Jersey to be with her husband. While she was gone Kenny got married. The next spring Deena came home again to wait the birth of her second baby which was born in May. One month later she left for Germany to join her husband, who was stationed there. While she was gone this time Laurie got married.

After I was released from the Relief Society Presidency, I went to work for a few months, and quit in January just before our daughter Janet was to be married. The next fall I was called to the Relief Soc. Stake board. I held this job for a year until we moved from Grant First Ward.

In the fall of 1972 we bought some property in South Jordan (5 acres) and at the beginning of 1974 my husband decided he wanted to sell our home and build a home on our new property. I wanted to do this too, but hated the thoughts of leaving the Grant First Ward where we had lived for almost 30 years. I had truly learned to love the people in this ward and could hardly bear the thoughts of moving away from them. But in April of 1974 we sold our home and moved into an apartment in West Jordan, which was about 5 or 6 miles from where we were going to build. Norm took some time off that summer and started our house, but he had to go back to work in August so the building went a little slow from then on. But he worked very diligently, and I helped him all I could and by the last of April 1975 our home was finished enough that we were able to move in. When we first came out here we were in the Riverton Stake, but we have now been put in the South Jordan Stake, and the South Jordan 6th Ward. We are beginning to get acquainted in this ward, and expect to be very happy here. We love living in this area, as we have lots of wide open spaces around us, and are surrounded with green fields.

Our daughter Laurie was divorced from her first husband in 1975 and lived here with us for about a year. In 1976 she was married to Edward Hall in the Salt Lake Temple and is now the mother of a sweet little baby girl. Kim was married in July of 1975. All our children live fairly close to us us, except Janet who lives in Layton. We have 10 grandchildren and one on the way.

We feel that the Lord has been very good to us and we are happy and contented with life, and looking forward to the day my husband can retire.
